County Planning Commission Works To Perfect "Master Plan" for Future

The ultimate aim of Princess Anne County's 14-member Planning Commission is to have a place in the county for every conceivable kind of development and to have every development in its proper place.

It was toward such a "master plan" that the county's board of Supervisors was looking when it created the commission in June of 1952.

Authorization for such a commission came from Section 15-921 of the Code of Virginia. In Section 15-920 it is defined thusly:

"The county master plan shall be made with the general purpose of guiding and accomplishing a coordinated, adjusted and harmonious development of the county which will, in accordance with present and future needs and resources, best promote the health, safety, morals, order, convenience, prosperity or general welfare of the inhabitants, as well as efficiency and economy in the process of development, including, amongst other things, such distribution of population and of the uses of land for urbanization, trade, industry, habitation, recreation, agriculture, forestry, and other purposes as will tend:

"(1) To create conditions favorable to health, safety, transportation, prosperity, civic activities and recreational, educational and cultural opportunities;

"(2) To reduce the wastes of physical, financial and human resources which result from either excessive congestion or excessive scattering of population; and

"(3) To provide an efficient and economic utilization, conservation and production of the supply of food and water and of drainage, sanitary and other facilities and resources."

Commission a Cross-Section of County People

To make this a truly representative body, the county's governing body selected a cross-section of the county inhabitants. Named to the board were doctors, lawyers, farmers and business men.

Named as its head is quiet and unassuming, yet highly competent Rhea T. Walker, of the Kempsville Magisterial District. Other members include Paul Sawyer, F. A. Van Patten, Charles Hodgman, Bernard Speigel, Emerson Menden, Tom Adams, J. Peter Holland, III, Dr. H. W. Johnson, Horace Shirley and James S. Day.

Because the State enabling act called for the creation of a Planning Commission as well as a Planning Commission, the Board of Supervisors chose five members from the above-named group to serve in that capacity.

J. Peter Holland, III, was chosen to head this commission-within-a-commission. The other four members are Sawyer, Hodgman, Menden and Day. The latter serves as secretary of both commissions.

Simultaneously with the creation of the two commissions, the county's governing body passed an interim commission.

Erosion Control Problems Subject Of Church Talk

E. H. Church, chairman of the Virginia Beach Erosion Commission was the principal speaker at the Princess Anne Burial Club meeting held Tuesday night at the Scott Memorial Methodist Church in Oceana.

The erosion commission head told the Burial Club members of the progress that has been made in the beach restoration project at Virginia Beach and he outlined the future work planned. He told of the new railroads and back fill yet to be done.

Frank W. Kellam, a former club president and district governor reported on the recent national convention held in Washington, D. C.

A special feature of the meeting was the presentation of a certificate of merit and award to former President James W. Darden for the outstanding accomplishments of the club during his administration.

Dr. J. H. Church, who presided over the meeting, was complimented by President R. E. "Fanny" Thompson on behalf of the club.

Raids in County Net 7 Arrests

Seven more persons have been arrested on charges of illicit sales in Princess Anne County's drive against sale of whisky, it was learned this week.

The arrests were made last Saturday night in raids which have become practice since Judge Floyd E. Kellam of the County Circuit Court ordered county police to break up club operations in the county.

Police Chief J. E. Moore arrested seven persons at five county locations. He listed them and the places raided as follows:

At T. Anderson, two charges of selling liquor at the House East Ocean View Avenue and Eighth Street.

Larry Faircloth, two charges of selling liquor at Mary's place between 16th and 17th Street, East Ocean View.

Al Folk, charged with selling whisky at The Little Pat, 2300 Shore Drive.

Mrs. Martha Sims, Wilbur Sims and Lydia Knew, arrested at Sims Chicken Shop on Route 12, near Landstar Traffic Circle. The Sims face charges of selling and laying of aiding and abetting in the illegal sale.

Robert L. Woodhouse, arrested on a charge of selling at Mary's Barn on Virginia Beach Boulevard at Davis Corner.

Outstanding Safe Drivers Reap County Woman's Club Awards

The Safety Campaign sponsored by the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County was brought to a successful climax on Saturday, January 31, with top awards being made to outstanding safe drivers.

The campaign, which ran the full month of January was conducted by the county Safety Committee with the full cooperation of both city and county Police Departments.

The drive was given excellent publicity through the newspapers, radio and television, and much interest was stimulated. Rules governing the awards were widely distributed and citizens were widely awake on the big day, hoping to be the fortunate winner.

Winners, each week coupons were printed by the local newspapers. Each coupon carried a safety slogan. The residents of the City and County were asked to save the coupons and memorize the safety slogan which appeared on each. The slogans were:

"ALWAYS DRIVE CAREFULLY," "DRIVE CAREFULLY - YOUR LIFE YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN," and "COURTESY IS CONTAGIOUS."

On Saturday, members of the committee, some accompanied by members of the City and County Police Forces, stopped both pedestrians and drivers throughout Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach and awarded a silver dollar to individuals who could repeat the three slogans. Approximately $400.00 was awarded.

In addition, two grand prizes were awarded to both a woman and a man driver who were observed by the report and county police in shopping centers and other heavy trafficked sections for this entire period. The winners of these two awards were Mrs. Arthur Barco, of Lusk Road and Mr. Cary Hudgins, 4300 Lakeview Circle. Mrs. Barco was especially commended for her observation of safety laws when picking up her children at school only. Mr. Hudgins, to whom it was found several other merits awards had been given, was particularly cited as having been an especially safe driver of both the bus he drives for Norfolk Southern and his own personal car.

SPORTSMAN

Fred Isaacs, Jr., coach at the Virginia Beach High School, has been named "Sportsman of the Year" by the Virginia Beach Sports Club.

Isaacs Named 'Sportsman of Year' by Club

Fred Isaacs, Jr., athletic coach at the Virginia Beach High School, was named the city's "Sportsman of the Year" at the first annual Virginia Beach Sports Club Jambo-ree held Tuesday night.

The award came as a climax to the club's "Mel Allen Night" as the talented and celebrated sportscaster spoke to members of the beach sports group. The dinner was held at the Princess Anne Country Club.

The tribute to Isaacs, the former grid great at Wake Forest College and a native of Durham, N. C., was based on the outstanding job he has done since taking over the coaching duties at the new school this year. His football team won the first Beach Bowl game by defeating Norfolk Academy.

Allen, who broadcasts all New York Yankee baseball games, told the sportsman of the problems facing major and minor league baseball and the problems brought on by television. Asked to compare Mickey Mantle, fleet rookie outfielder for the world champions, and the great Joe DiMaggio, Allen stated that Mantle lacked the instinct that DiMaggio had, but that he was a whole of a ball player with lots of natural ability.

The meeting also saw a new slate of officers installed with William O. Thompson, Jr. elected president.

Other officers installed were: Vice President, Mr. J. H. Dorman; Secretary, Mrs. Ralph Floyd.

Members will be Mrs. Floyd Dorman and Mrs. Ralph Floyd.

Mayor - C of C Controversy Seems Apt to Be Resolved Amicably After Discussion

QUESTION INVOLVES RESPONSIBILITY FOR PLACING RESORT'S ADVERTISING, PAID BY SPECIAL TAX LEVIES

The controversy currently raging between Mayor P. F. Murray and Chamber of Commerce officials appears to be headed for a settlement. All of the resort's advertising in 1952, and may be resolved before the City Council meets on February 16.

Mayor Murray told the Sun-News last night before press time that he had just conferred with "two men" (unnamed) about the problem and that it appeared that everything would be worked out amicably within the next several days.

The controversy—who should expand advertising funds raised thru special taxation—arose when a letter the mayor wrote to members of the Council became public.

In the letter Mayor Murray proposed the naming of a 12 or 15-member committee of "citizens" for the purpose of studying, planning and placing advertising. This committee, according to the mayor's suggestion, would be responsible to the Council, and would be composed of a cross-section of the resort's tourist-serving business.

The suggestion, the mayor said in his letter, was made because of the Council's responsibility of raising funds for the purpose and of their like responsibility in seeing that the money was properly spent.

Garden Club Council Outlines Ambitious Program for Spring

At a meeting of the Council of Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County held Wednesday, January 28th, Mrs. J. H. Dorman, president, outlined the progress of the Council's project to beautify Atlantic Avenue.

The project, she said, was a committee from the Virginia Beach City Council who reported that the project was approved by the City Council for planting the several blocks of the former right of way of the Norfolk Southern R. R. between the Cavalier Hotel and 49th Street in the same manner that the State Highway Dept. is preparing the county part from 49th Street to Port Story. She emphasized that current money raising campaign of the Council is for funds to buy trees and shrubs for the entire strip and that a similar plan will be used throughout.

She also reported that the County Board of Supervisors upon request had allocated $500 to the beautification fund. She said the active shrubs and deciduous trees called for in the plan were being planted in the first unit of twenty blocks in the north end of the strip. The project was placed for the next unit. Planting of the native material will be followed by the nursery stock, as soon as the Highway Dept. is ready for it. The seven city blocks will be planted as soon as ready.

A county wide spring cleaning campaign was discussed and a committee appointed to look into the matter of county wide support of such a project.

The Evergreen Garden Club of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County has been organized. A donation toward the beautification of Atlantic Ave. announced that 75 plants have been placed around the Community Center at Seaside; and that a junior garden club of thirteen members has been organized. On the fourth Sunday in February a Martha Washington Tea, the annual money raising project, will be held.

WE HAVE STAKES, TOO

While a full-scale controversy is slowly gathering strength relative to the southern terminal for the projected Hampton Roads tunnel crossing, we wonder if Virginia Beach is not "missing the boat" in not taking an active part in the decision.

As the case now stands there are two possibilities for location of the southern terminal, or the Norfolk entrance to the projected tunnel. One is located at Willoughby in Ocean View, and the other is 38th Street in Norfolk. It was understood that the Willoughby location would be adopted, but a genuine movement is afoot to change the terminal location to 38th Street in Norfolk City.

It is obvious that the terminal location at Willoughby would be highly beneficial to the resort community of Virginia Beach. It would mean the tunnel entrance or terminal would be located on U.S. Highway 60 at Willoughby, and Virginia Beach is the eastern terminus of that major artery. If the terminal is changed to 38th Street it would mean a major loss in potential traffic to Virginia Beach and traffic would be diverted to the City of Norfolk.

The argument for location of the terminal at Willoughby is sound. To begin with, it is understood that it would lessen the overall cost of the project by several millions of dollars. Secondly, it is believed the State Highway Department favors the Willoughby location.

Ocean View residents are aware of the movement to change the terminal location and they are preparing to fight it. Several meetings have been held and more are scheduled. We believe it behooves business interests of Virginia Beach to join in the discussions with a view to retaining the terminal location at Willoughby.

"AS THE TWIG . . ."

Just how much this nation owes to the proper goals of morality and industry set before its youth over the past few decades is something for only the psychologist to say with any degree of exactitude, but it is undeniable and quite plain to Americans the country over, that training of our youth in the way it should go in years past has made available men of the highest calibre to cope with the momentous problems which have beset us in recent years.

Much has been said of late of the growing laxity of parental supervision of children—much of it all too apparently true. Unless, then, there had been some counter-balancing influence, we would today be in a sad state indeed. What were these counter-balances?

They were many such . . . all influencing our youth to a greater or lesser degree. There were our schools, with their dedicated teachers, which had an opportunity, five days each week, to help inculcate by precept and example, the spirit of honesty and fair play and sportsmanship. There were the Sunday schools and churches, which at least one day a week—and many more—lighted the way to goals far beyond those set by the work-a-day world or the average home, we are afraid. And then there were the youth organizations . . .

Next week, one of these youth organizations, The Boy Scouts of America, observes its 43rd birthday. How many boys over those 43 years have been inspired to better things by Scouting? More than 20 million, Scout records show, and today's membership of three and one-quarter million Scouts and Scout leaders will give you a fair idea of the scope of this great youth-building, character-molding organization.

Great men in every field of endeavor, law, business, statesmanship, have all been touched by this group and its attainable ideals of good citizenship. Surely, twenty million boys "exposed" to such an influence made and will make better Americans.

So hail to Scouting and to Scouts! May they continue to prosper and increase, and may we all, as ordinary citizens, aid them in every way possible to continue the good work of "bending the twig" in the proper direction.

ACROSS THE DESK

From The Syracuse News, Syracuse, Ala.:
 "A talking horse" has hit the headlines recently, answering many unasked questions. This is all right if you can believe a horse. My experience has been that they are unasked questions. Once or twice I have inquired of one of the breed how he was coming out in a particular race, and he gave me the wrong answer by half a track. Of course, he might have failed to tell the jockey what he had seen.

largely a result of the trend in government in recent years. Our national debt is around $260,000,000,000 and annual spending has been rolling merrily along at an $80,000,000,000 rate. So figures large enough to tax the imagination of a first-class mathematician are commonplace in public discussion.

In view of this a Reader's Digest item on just what a single, solitary billion amounts to should be of wide interest.

Suppose that your family started a business with a billion dollar surplus in the year A. D. one. And suppose it had been so badly and extravagantly managed that it had lost $1,000 every day of the 1952 years that have gone by since then.

From The Catskill Mountain Star, Saugerties, N. Y.:
 America has a shortage of nukes, and it's going to grow worse, we learn from an American Medical Association Journal. There aren't so many old mads any more, say the statisticians. The doctors point out that the 1950 census showed 1,430,000 more women than men and declared that the higher male death rate and more women immigrants are increasing the disparity. In the last 11 years say the insurance men, the marriage rate of American females has increased 16 per cent. And for the first time in 60 years girls over 35 scored more weddings.

It must be because they marry so often these days.

WASHINGTON.. AS VIEWED BY YOUR SENATOR

A. Willis Robertson

WHEAT EXPORT SUBSIDY REDUCES SUPPORT COST

Congress was prepared to quicken its pace this week after receiving the personally delivered message of President Eisenhower. Committees which have been organized but have been waiting for an indication of the legislative program which the President would recommend, are now prepared to start hearings on top items of legislation.

The bill in Washington last week, following confirmation of the Eisenhower Cabinet, gave me an opportunity for a quick trip to Southwest Virginia, where I addressed a Democratic rally at Norton.

In that speech I emphasized the importance to Southwest Virginia, as well as other areas, of a healthy program of foreign trade. I pointed out that the plan of "trade and aid" now being advocated by a Republican President had long been sound Democratic doctrine and that I had actively supported this program since it was initiated by Cordell Hull in 1934.

My immediate personal interest in this subject centers around the meeting of the International Wheat Council, which opened in Washington on Friday, January 30. This is a continuation of discussions started in London last April by the 16 nations participating in the International Wheat Agreement of 1949.

More than two-thirds of the world's wheat trade is being carried on under this agreement, which sets maximum prices which the four exporting nations (Canada, Australia, France and the United States) could charge and a minimum price which the 42 importing countries would pay, with a free market between these limits. The agreement will expire at the end of next July unless the participating countries agree to renew it. There is some opposition in the United States because of the subsidy cost, amounting to nearly $500,000,000 in the four-year period. But those who favor the agreement point out that it will have permitted the farmers of the United States to export nearly a billion bushels of surplus wheat in an orderly manner while party prices were being maintained on our home markets.

Wheat is eligible for government loans at 90 per cent of parity and the subsidy that may be paid by our government if the international agreement is extended will cost the taxpayers less than the loan value. Wheat growers will, of course, take the loan if they can't find commercial markets at parity prices.

We also must remember that Russia has wheat for export which she is willing to barter for industrial supplies and our allies in Europe will undoubtedly get wheat from Russia before they will go hungry.

I have been chosen to represent the Senate Appropriations Committee on the United States Committee, which will advise the Secretary of Agriculture in connection with the current wheat council meeting and, therefore, follow its deliberations closely. My objective will be a plan to preserve the foreign agricultural trade which is vital to our nation as a whole, as well as to the farmers; but to keep the cost at an absolute minimum.

read to the board because he felt that it was of primary concern to them.

Garage Building Grows Rapidly

The shortage of materials for new automobiles has been given as one of the chief reasons for the garage building boom sweeping America.

W. K. MacDonald of Princess Anne Lumber Company pointed out today that car owners are realizing that their automobiles might have to last for a much longer period than during peacetime.

"Many car owners learned during World War II - learned the hard way - that the open air is a poor place to leave their one or two thousand dollar auto investment," Mr. MacDonald said. "New cars as well as old ones just can't stand up as long when left exposed to weather conditions."

Mr. MacDonald pointed out that attractive garages are low cost, and that in many cases they pay for themselves in a short period of time by savings on auto repair bills. He pointed out that while there is a growing shortage of materials for new automobile construction, there is no shortage of lumber for garages.

"The garage not only gives protection to automobile value," he said "but also means added value to the home."

'Papa Is All' Gets Laughs Galore

When a man gets hit on the head with a monkey wrench and everyone is laughing about it—well, then just be a man. And "Papa" from the Patterson Greene play "Papa Is All" is just that.

The "Papa" of this hit comedy which opened Tuesday night at the Theatre-Go-Round, is so mean that he is disliked not only by his family and neighbors but also by the cows and chickens on his farm!

The play, moving at a fast clip, finds Jake, his son, busy designing machinery: Emma, his daughter going to a movie with her boy friend; Mama, wanting a telephone and other modern "conveniences" all of which Papa heartily disapproves of.

John Giroux, in his first appearance before Theatre-Go-Round audiences is convincing as the ill-tempered Papa: Gene Stuart and Betty Keeney as the children, give excellent performances and add much to the merriment with their delivery of the Pennsylvania Dutch dialect. George Phillips as the gentle "Mama" gives an outstanding performance. Particularly pleasing to the audience are the scenes between Mama and the rosy neighbor, Mrs. Yoder, performed to a perfection by Lesley Savage. John Dutra does a capable job in his "Po-lie-man" role.

"Papa Is All" (all dead or gone) is family entertainment pleasing to both young and old... and recommended for loud, long laughs. Presentation is nightly except Monday thru February 15th with the curtain at 8:40.

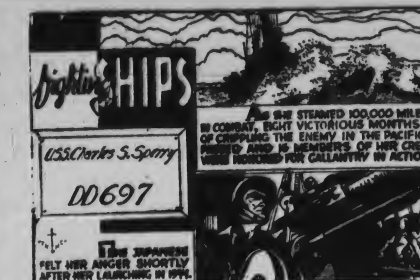

On February 17th, this professional stock company will present "The Voice of the Turtle" Reservations for all performances may be made by calling 2730 anytime after 1 p.m. daily.

Traffic Violators Potential Killers Johnson Declares

"Every traffic violator is a potential murderer," Chief Reeves E. Johnson made this strong indictment of law breaking motorists today as he called for the cooperation of the entire community in the Know and Obey Traffic Laws program which is being sponsored by the Virginia Beach Police and the Governor's Highway Safety Committee during February.

"No normal human being would deliberately use his automobile to take another's life," Chief Johnson said. "Yet our files are filled with records of traffic violations. Whenever you disregard a traffic law or ordinance, you leave yourself open to the possibility of killing or being killed."

The Chief believes that many traffic accidents could be prevented if every citizen would make it his business to acquaint himself with the local traffic laws and obey them after he had learned them.

Putting laws on the statute books will not, by itself, save a single life, he said. The laws must be known and obeyed by all if they are to be effective in cutting down the traffic toll.

A digest of local traffic laws, written in easily understood lay language, is available, the Chief said. He urged all citizens to get a copy by requesting it from the Division of Motor Vehicles or the Governor's Highway Safety Committee.

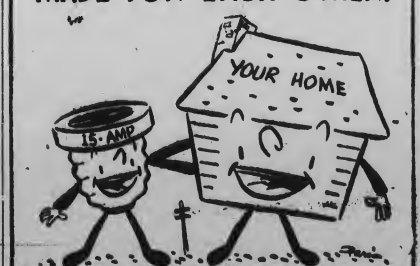

"While most traffic laws regulate the conduct of motorists, only," the Chief said, "this does not absolve pedestrians from responsibility for their own safety and the safety of others. Pedestrians who cross streets in black or who otherwise disregard traffic safety rules are inviting disaster. They are endangering their own lives and the lives of motorists who may not see them in time to avoid hitting them."

There can be no hope for any improvement in the local traffic picture, Chief Johnson said, until each citizen accepts his own responsibility for knowing and obeying traffic laws.

Miss Juanita Aldridge has returned to Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg, Va., after spending the mid-term holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Aldridge, 415 22nd Street.

MARY BALL WASHINGTON

Truly "America's First Mother," Mary Washington, who was born in Lancaster County, has become one of the most honored women in history. She married Captain Augustine Washington on March 6, 1731. When Washington was three years old, the family moved from Westmoreland County to Hunting Creek, now Mount Vernon, and later to Ferry Farm. After her husband's death and the marriage of her children, she moved to Philadelphia, where she lived until her death on August 25, 1799. In a last farewell to her, Washington said, "All that I can I owe to my honored mother."

Charlotte Scarborough was high scorer with 16 points and Vagos close behind with 15. This puts the Ocean ladies in a three way tie with Churchland and Smithfield who are also undefeated. Reservations are being received by members of the cabaret committee that includes Mrs. W. A. Cietz, Mrs. W. P. Kellam and Mrs. J. Melvin Cloud.

The dance will follow the Friday night presentation of the show at the Virginia Beach High School of Warsaw.

FENCE LINES

GREENHOUSE... Here is a simple idea for a small home greenhouse, build it on the south side of the house, around a window. The window can then be removed and you have a greenhouse within the house. It might take a bit of doing, but it should be worth the effort.

Bowling Alleys at Ft. Story Remodeled

The Post bowling alley, Building T-1000, at Fort Story, has recently been completely remodeled. The general consensus of opinion of all who have visited the new alleys to date seems to be that they are among the finest in the Tidewater area.

Boasting six completely refinished lanes, this special service activity is open every evening for both private and league bowling and on Tuesday afternoon for ladies bowling. Free instruction is offered the ladies on these afternoons.

High quality bowling balls are provided and shoes may be rented for the nominal fee of ten cents a pair. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings are devoted to present to Company League teams, and so far the 612th Transportation Company (Amphibious Truck) is leading the league.

ing to a 0-14-14 mixture.

Most of the pertinent facts are to be gleaned from the accompanying table.

Prize Winners

John W. Potter, as related above, took top honors and received first prize of $25.00 given by Allied Mills, Inc. Second was Earl M. Tehault, who received $15.00 from the Club. Other winners, in order, were: J. G. Petree, third, a prize of two bushels of certified seed given by the D. W. Warren Seed Company; Ralph Lee Frost, fourth, $8.00; and A. D. Malbone and J. B. Dudley, fifth and sixth, $5.00 each from the club.

Mr. Ozlin expressed the hope that the work in soybean cultivation be continued this year and that more growers be educated as to the possibilities of the crop and its profitable cultivation. His office and club members are ready and eager to assist in every way to make this a banner year for Princess Anne County soybean growers.

The move is the part of the church appropriate for laymen.

Don't Moor to Buoys Warns Coast Guard

Fishermen and pleasure boat operators were reminded this week, by Rear Admiral Russell E. Wood, Commander 5th Coast Guard District, that it is a violation of Federal law to moor any craft to Coast Guard aids to navigation—or in any other manner impair the operation of such aids.

Mooring boats to buoys is considered obstruction and interference with aid to navigation; an illegal practice punishable by fine not to exceed $500, imprisonment, or both. Provisions of Title 33, Code Federal Regulations provide that one half of such fine shall be paid to the person or persons supplying information leading to a conviction.

Twelve Explorers, older members of the Boy Scouts of America, will represent the twelve Boy Scout regions in ceremonies at Washington, D. C., and New York during Boy Scout Week, February 7 to 13, marking the 43rd birthday anniversary of the organization.

A highlight of the observance in Washington, where the Boy Scout organization was incorporated on February 8, 1910, will be a breakfast on Monday, February 9, attended by nearly 100 leaders representing the Senate, the House of Representatives and national organizations. The 12 Explorers, representing the 3,250,000 boys and adult leaders of the movement, will interpret the organization's outstanding accomplishments of the year, stressing conservation projects and the citizenship training aspects of the Three Year Program, known as "Forward on Liberty's Team."

The Explorers will be seated at the Washington breakfast next to the Congressmen from their home districts. While at the nation's capital, the Explorers will visit the Capitol, the FBI, and principal points of interest. They will also tell of the fourth coming third National Jamboree—expected to bring 50,000 Boy Scouts together for a week of camping in a 3,000-acre tent city at Irvine Ranch in Southern California next July 12 to 23.

The twelve young regional representatives will en route to New York on Tuesday, and that day and the next will be guests of the United Nations, visit the broadcasting and television studios, see the city from the top of the Empire State Building, visit Radio City and share in a 43rd birthday party at the National Office of Boy Scouts of America in New York.

SIMPLE VALENTINE PARTY

WHAT girl doesn't long to have a St. Valentine's party? It's fun and so easy for the young miss who likes to do things "all by herself." A centerpiece of roses is appropriate and a few of these lovely flowers can be arranged to advantage, so the expense is small. Heart-decorated paper plates and napkins to match add the motif of the day to the table or buffet.

Home-made cookies, heart-shaped, and decorated, are festive and a box of cookie-mix provides a sufficient number with no great amount of effort. With the cookies an ice cream soda made with pale dry ginger ale is perfect. For a simpler drink, ginger ale, thoroughly chilled, is good, or it can be mixed, in equal proportions, with any fruit juice. The frozen fruit juice concentrates are fine for mixing with ginger ale.

Here is a soda, sure to delight the youngsters, the recipe for a single drink.

GREEN MOUNTAIN SPECIAL
2 tablespoons maple syrup
Fey drops maple flavoring
1 scoop vanilla ice cream
Pale dry ginger ale

Combine maple syrup and maple flavoring in a tall glass. Add vanilla ice cream. Fill glass with ice cold pale dry ginger ale. Stir gently to mix.

Miss Nita Aldridge, a student at Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg will arrive tomorrow to spend the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Aldridge, and will be an attendant in the wedding of Miss Betty Jo Moore to John P. Bobal which will take place on Saturday.

HAWAIIAN FIRSTS

The first newspaper west of the Mississippi river was published on the island of Maui, Hawaii. Several schools, more than 100 years old stand in the town of Walluku on the same island, and it was there that manual training was first taught in the new world.

Buildings at Ft. Story Undergoing Repair

On Thursday of last week, work began on a project to replace deteriorated windows, frames and sashes in Headquarters Building 100, at Ft. Story. Normal weathering processes have caused many of the windows to leak or become inoperable. All of the new windows will be of clear glass rather than the glazed or mesh type. The work is being done by the J. Kenyon Perrin Company of Richmond, and is expected to require two or three weeks to complete.

SECURED BARNYUM

Radiant utility is secured by a special police escort when being transported. The radiolum is placed in thick lead containers to prevent emanation of rays and thus protects those who come in contact with it.

Compliments on Food, Service Received Daily by Colony

Hardly a day goes by without a letter being received by the Colony Restaurant on Atlantic Avenue complimenting them on their fine food, perfect service and hospitable atmosphere.

Robert Lee Howe, of 816 Manor Road, Independence, Mo., said in a recent letter: "Good service, and the best food we've had in the East."

"Food and service out of this world," is an excerpt from a note of praise from Bryant E. Smith, 410 Speed Building, Louisville, Ky.

Down the Line with Johnny Bell

There's nothing like a good old-fashioned square dance for relaxation and fun. It's most enjoyable when everyone knows the steps and co-ordinates by following the caller. Sharing a party line is pretty much the same thing. Keeping calls reasonably brief and speed is one good step to neighborly co-operation for the benefit of all.

Fungi luncheon

You'd think that by the time a tree got to be a telephone pole it would have escaped its natural enemies. It wouldn't be so if the fungi had their way. At the Bell laboratories, preservatives mean longer uninterrupted service to telephone subscribers, at lower cost.

Amphibious Training Exercises Underway in Caribbean

One of the most important military operations in the world is the amphibious assault. The U.S. Navy is currently conducting a series of amphibious training exercises in the Caribbean Sea. The exercises are being conducted by the U.S. Navy's Amphibious Group Two, which is commanded by Rear Admiral L. J. Burdick. The group is composed of the USS Albatross (AG-16), the USS Albatross (AG-16), the USS Albatross (AG-16), and the USS Albatross (AG-16). ships and air patrol squadrons. In all, over 150 ships and craft will participate.

The amphibious task force will load out from its base at Vieques, captured in phase one, and move across to Onslow Beach, North Carolina, against "Black" submarines and air opposition. Air support will be supplied by Rear Admiral W. H. Roberts, Jr., USN, Commander Carrier Division 2. Air and anti-submarine warfare operations will be directed by Rear Admiral A. P. Storr, III, USN, Commander Carrier Division 16.

The exercise will end with a D-Day assault at Onslow Beach on March 28, conducted under realistic conditions.

The huge training program will enable the Marines to test doctrine for the use of new weapons and methods—especially the employment of helicopters in amphibious operations. It will also serve to polish up old techniques for the employment of the Marine Air-Ground Team aimed at speeding up the whole sequence of amphibious operations ashore.

Pope Pius XII received more than 13,000 newwed couples in 1952. Vatican sources disclosed. They believe it was the largest number the pontiff has received since the end of World War II.

UNIQUE OPTICAL SERVICE OFFERED TO RESIDENTS OF VIRGINIA BEACH AND PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY

The Salasky Optical Co., a name known to residents of Princess Anne County for over 40 years and located NOW at 2101 Atlantic Avenue, across from Cherry-Pearson's Men's Shop—has been offering to the people of this community an optical service that is generally associated only with a metropolitan area.

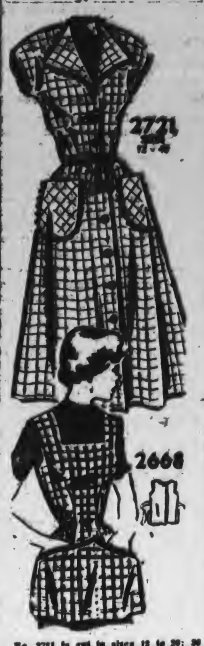

This service is quick, accurate, and reliable. For those who have the misfortune to need optical repairs, and cannot be without their eyeglasses, the Salasky Optical Co. can make these repairs, while you wait and thereby NOT have to be without your good vision for all your workday seeing.

Eyeglass frames, minor adjustments and repairs are made while you wait. Replacement of lens, or lenses, and new eyeglasses, all in a "one day service." This eliminates that unnecessary trip to Norfolk which entails

HOME EC. CLASS BEST ON PROJECTS

The Home Economics classes have been enjoying a varied and interesting program of work throughout the year. The classes have studied foods and nutrition, clothing, habits and recreational activities, boy-girl relationships, personality development and etiquette. Improvements have been made in the department by the addition of new cabinets for hanging the coats which are being constructed. Purchase of a steam iron and other sewing and food equipment. Plans for the year include the making of draperies by the students for the department.

The students are now working on home projects. Many are preparing meals; others are improving bedrooms, re-furnishing furniture, baby strollers, and making draperies, afghans and rugs.

KEMPSVILLE DOWNS CREEDS INDIANS

January 23rd, in the Creed's gym, the Kempsville Blue Devils chalked up another victory. They outplayed the Creeds Indians to rack up a score of 85 to 52.

The Blue Devils had a 25 point lead at half time. Paul Vestal led the attack all the way and scored a total of 18 points to be higher scorer for the winners.

The outstanding performances of Donald Reid, Bob Ed Charles, Jerry McMath, and Bob Roberts paved the way for Kempsville's victory.

The Kempsville ladies defeated the Creeds girls to take the preliminary game 61 to 29. Scoring 28 points for Kempsville, Barbara Whitehead, was high scorer of the night.

KEMPSVILLE 4-H KEEPS BUSY

The Christmas activities of the Kempsville 4-H consisted of sending gifts to patients at Blue-ridge and Grandy Sanatoriums, making seventy-five favors to go on hospital trays, sending gifts to police patients, clothes and food to needy families, and large boxes of fruit and cigarettes to patients in hospital wards.

For the first time in the history of the Kempsville Club many boys are taking Cooking as a project. At Christmas the boys made cookies to go to the hospitals. Prizes were given for the best and most attractive. Frank Bednarnick and Woody Jones won 1st prize for their brownies; Ping Foxwell and Spud Jackson second prize for brownies; Bob Ed Charles third prize for his sugar cookies. These boys are planning to put their talents to work again, when they prepare food for a covered dish supper which will be held soon at the Home Demonstration kitchen in the new agricultural building at the Court House. 4-Hers are enjoying June in January by having swimming parties at the Central Y. M. C. A. The first of the series was held January 24th.

4-H waitresses were in evidence in the Kempsville cafeteria last week when they served for the board of Agriculture Dinner. They were green and white 4-H aprons made by the clothing girls. At the last meeting the new officers for 1953 were elected, they are: President, Shirley Humphreys; Vice-President, Bob Charles; Secretary, John Rudtschbauer; Reporter, Betty Sue Matheson and Pat Saunders; Song Leader, Tina Jones and Judy Fowlkes; Recreational Leaders, Carolyn Worlock, Tuffy Parsons, Woody Jones, and Frank Bednarnick; Boys Cooking, Jesse Dillmore, Ping Foxwell and Woody Jones; Girls Clothing, Shirley Humphreys; Florence Jackson and Carolyn Worlock; Girls Cooking, Lillian Parsons.

Since the Club enrollment this year is over 145 it was necessary to select Junior Leaders to work with the group.

At a recent assembly sponsored by the 4-H Club Corn Blackman IFFE Delegate spoke to the student body and told about her experiences while she was in Australia as a 4-H representative last year.

JUNIORS PLAN FOR 1953 PROM

The Junior class of Kempsville met on Wednesday, the 28th of January, in the school cafeteria, with Tommy Thomas presiding. This was the second meeting of the year and preparations for the Junior-Senior prom were discussed. It is an old custom at Kempsville for the Juniors to give the Seniors a dinner and dance, and each year the new Juniors try to out-do the Juniors of the previous year.

The following committees were named: The decorations committee: Judy Fowlkes, Carol Strahan, Helen Howell, Dalton Wood, Bob Ed Charles, Betty Sue Matheson and Rita Blackhurst; Program Committee: Jesse Dillmore, Earl Bennett, Carolyn Barlow, Mary Jo Beckham and Marie Fisk; Grand March Committee: Allie Mitchell, Jeanne Vestal, Woody Jones, John Rudtschbauer, Frances Petty, Barbara Greenhouse; Table Arrangement: Anne Spence and Jean Soriano; Chair and Table Committee: Mickey Kirby, and Arthur Whitton and Carl Hellstrom.

It was estimated that the prom would cost $750, so the class dues were set at $5. It was reported that the Juniors have a balance of $200, so $550 remains to be collected.

The groups voted to have a floor show following the dinner in which the Fire Man Morris School of Dancing would give a performance.

Some of the talent of the Junior and Senior classes will perform also. The whole affair is to begin at 7 o'clock and end at 1.

There will be approximately 300 attending this year. This will be the largest group ever to attend the Kempsville Junior-Senior Dance. The theme for the prom has not been decided upon, but the gymnasium will be a fairy land again this year no matter what theme is chosen. The prom promises to be as good if not better than any other ever held at Kempsville.

The Sea has a population of about 800 per square mile.

RUDEE INLET JETTIES GET GREEN LIGHT

ENGINEERS PROPOSE SAND STORAGE FACILITIES

Myron Sturgeon Engineers, consulting engineers on Virginia Beach's restoration project, have confirmed their recommendation to the Virginia Beach Erosion Commission that two 500-foot jetties be constructed at Rudee Inlet.

The engineers give as their reason the fact that approximately 750,000 cubic yards of sand will be needed to replenish the beach every three or four years for the next 15 years, and that the Lake Wesley basin will have to be available as a store house and a refuge from storms if sand has to be dredged from the ocean floor off-shore.

In relating its recommendation to the commission, the engineers point out that only approximately 150,000 cubic yards of sand remain in the Lake Wesley-Rudee area.

They say that a substantial supply can be found within economical pumping distance of the inlet and might well be stored there for future use.

If the plan to take sand from the ocean floor is undertaken, they point out that Lake Wesley will be needed as a harbor for dredging equipment in case of storms. A constant channel between the lake and the ocean will be necessary if the lake is to serve this purpose.

RECEIVES HUSBAND'S MEDAL

The widow of Lieutenant Richard E. Garver, USN, received his Distinguished Flying Cross recently from Rear Admiral T. B. Britton, USN, Commander of the Norfolk Navy Base, while Richard, Jr., 4, and Nancy, 3, gaze at the case containing the medal. The award was made for action in Korea on the morning of June 8, 1952, when Lt. Garver led a section of attack bombers through extremely hazardous conditions deep into hostile territory to obtain vital information for use in subsequent operations. Having successfully completed his mission, he was returning to the carrier USS Princeton when his aircraft crashed through fog into the sea. Mrs. Garver and their two children reside at 287 52nd Street, Virginia Beach. The pilot was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Garver, of Albemarle, Carolina.

Partial Planting Of Atlantic Ave. Spurs Fund Drive

With the Civitan Club's purchase of the planting of a block in the North Atlantic Avenue Beautification project, there remain only about 715 blocks to be paid for before the completion of the drive for funds for this work.

Partial planting has already been done in several blocks, while the planting of existing flowering shrubs will be done later in the Spring.

One spokesman for the Council of Garden Clubs sponsors of the project, said yesterday that "it would be hoove every citizen of Princess Anne County to take a definite interest in this project, or it materially benefits every one of us."

The rebuilding of the beach proper and the great improvement made in this block drive, the summer should certainly see more tourists attracted to this area than ever before.

Individual contributions continue to swell the funds for the project, and are most necessary for its completion, this spokesman declared. "Whether your donation is large or small, it is needed to further this work," she said.

Additional citizens making contributions this week are: S. B. Hall, Elizabeth R. Huber, W. G. Rock King, J. C. Jett, J. H. Devereaux, Mrs. Fielding Leach, and the Cape Henry Garden Club.

BEACH ADVERTISING FUND CONTROL STILL UP IN AIR

THIRD PROPOSAL MADE; COUNCIL TO ACT ONLY AFTER NEW PLAN IS APPROVED BY COMMERCE CHAMBER

Nothing appears settled today in the Mayor's Chamber of Commerce controversy despite the fact that a joint meeting of the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce executive committee was held yesterday.

Another proposal—the third to be made on how the city's advertising money will be handled—came out of yesterday's meeting.

This plan grew out of a meeting of the executive committee, which was held during a brief recess of the executive council meeting yesterday.

It calls for the selection of an 11-member committee by Mayor P. F. Murray and John H. Bell, president of the Chamber, from those who have the occupational requirements set down in the Mayor's first proposal.

In that proposal he asked that a committee be selected from business serving the tourist trade directly for the purpose of "studying, planning and placing" the resort's advertising.

This committee, if it gets the approval of the Chamber's Board of Directors and the City Council, will place the advertising in the name of the Chamber, later certifying the bills and presenting them to the city for payment.

The executive committee made its recommendation to the City Council, but that body, refused to act on the matter until the plan is put in writing and approved by the Chamber's Board of Directors.

It is not known today what action the Chamber's board will take. It has already rejected a recommendation from its advertising committee that a compromise to the Mayor's first plan be adopted.

In that plan both the City and the Chamber would appoint 17-member committees from which the City would choose four members and the Chamber three to become an executive advertising board. This board would place the advertising and the city would pay the bills.

THE UNITY THAT BINDS US

The following editorial comment, written by John S. Knight, editor and publisher of the Chicago Daily News, or coeditorly typifies the spirit of Brotherhood Week, to be observed nationwide next week, that we are re-printing it for your appraisal.

Carl Sandburg celebrated his 75th birthday in Chicago on January 6th, this year.

Those who attended the big celebration dinner got souvenir copies of a new poem the guest of honor had recently written.

Here is the poem:

"There is only one horse on the earth and his name is All Horses.
 There is only one bird in the air and his name is All Wings.
 There is only one fish in the sea and his name is All Fins.
 There is only one man in the world and his name is All Men.
 There is only one woman in the world and her name is All Women.
 There is only one child in the world and the child's name is All Children.
 There is only one Maker in the world and His children cover the earth and they are named All God's Children."

This is a beautiful expression of the unity that underlies the vast diversity of human life and of all living things.

Let us thank God for the rich and marvelous differences among His creatures. Among His human children, every group, every personality, has some special endowment that enriches the inheritance to which we all are heirs.

But let us thank God even more devoutly for the unity that binds us together.

In the common fate of God's children, we share the same processes of birth, growth, decline and death. We have similar shares in joy and hope. None, however, he may seem to be favored in achievement or possessions, escapes his portion of disappointment, bereavement, and grief.

Equally we need the sustaining sense of brotherhood with all who strive along with us, each succeeding in some measure and in some measure failing.

May Brotherhood Week in 1953 bring a large reward in mutual love and understanding, and in practical measures to express them.

"A PIECE OF AMERICA"

Television addicts are familiar with the weekly show, "Life With Luigi," starring J. Carroll Nash. In one recent episode Luigi, the Italian immigrant lad who now runs an antique shop in his adopted country, reached the conclusion that he should buy "a little piece of America" in the form of a share of common stock. His description of the purchase in a mythical letter to his mother is a gem of homely economics, telling in a few simple words about all there is to tell of the principle of American corporate enterprise.

"Dear Mama Mia," says Luigi, "I'm got twenty dollars free and clear, tax free. And I'm going to use this money to buy a little piece of America. I'm going to invest in the stock market. In case you don't know what means the stock market . . . I'll explain: It's like you and everybody in the village own the same chicken. You can't eat it — you just own it."

"Now if the chicken lays an egg, that's a small dividend. If it lays six eggs, that's a big dividend. If it doesn't lay any eggs at all, you better take a good look at the chicken . . . maybe it's a rooster."

There are millions of "Luigies" in this country. They count on the chicken continuing to lay eggs. If it doesn't—well, pretty soon there will be no chicken. And that is the way it is with industries that keep this country going. They either earn some dividends for Luigi and his thrifty brethren who have invested their hard-earned savings in them, or pretty soon there will be no production—and no sources of tax revenue.

This is why the soap boxers who decry profits and the profit motive, whether they realize it or not, are calling for an end to the entire American system of enterprise and representative government.

Statistics reveal that women live longer than men. Again proving the advertising slogan that youth is a wonderful preservative.

Nothing makes a man realize his age more than having his wife tell him to pull in his stomach—after she already has!

On Guard says some preachers should learn . . . all those coughs aren't colds . . . they're time signals.

WASHINGTON..

AS VIEWED BY YOUR SENATOR

DEMOCRATS WILL SUPPORT EISENHOWER PROPOSALS

President Eisenhower's first message to the Congress—calling for a positive foreign policy of international cooperation, including world trade, and a "middle way" in domestic affairs—presented broad outlines of a program which and other Democrats will gladly support.

Practically every time in recent years when I have spoken of international problems, I have emphasized, as President Eisenhower did, that no single country can alone defend the liberty of all nations; that mutual security requires mutual cooperation and that mutual cooperation will be promoted by mutually beneficial foreign trade.

I was glad he called once more for a practical unity of Western Europe and warned that our help to other nations must be measured by their efforts to do their share of our common task.

The President's announcement that the Seventh Fleet would no longer shield Communist China from Nationalist Chinese raids took the headlines but is, I believe, of limited immediate significance. It is not believed in Washington that Chiang Kai-shek's forces on Formosa could not maintain themselves on the mainland without our help and the President and Secretary of State have made it clear that the order to the fleet did not involve providing such help. Current thinking also is that there is no immediate way to win a military victory in Korea without hazarding a larger war which neither we nor our allies want.

In discussing foreign trade, President Eisenhower properly recommended removing some existing barriers and extending the Reciprocal Trade Agreements. But he added: "This objective must not ignore legitimate safeguarding of domestic industries, agriculture and labor standards." My fear is that many Republicans will place a broader interpretation on them than the President intended.

There is no tariff, or a very small one, on most of the raw materials we need, such as rubber and ore. What Europe wants to sell us is manufactured goods, on which there are some rather high tariffs. The question will be whether "safeguarding domestic industries" is to be interpreted as meaning the large interests of the farmers and others dependent on foreign markets are to be jeopardized in order to help some of our less efficient producers meet foreign price competition.

I have repeatedly advocated the program now proposed by the President which would put balancing the Federal budget ahead of tax reduction.

I am in accord with his view that under present conditions we do not need to continue price and wage controls but that we still need some controls over materials essential to our defense.

His promise of executive action to increase the efficiency of the Post Office Department, which has been running on too large a deficit basis, is to be commended and the President is on sound ground when he says that we must be strong in arms and strong in productivity but, above all, strong in our spiritual resources. I am glad that he opens his cabinet meetings with prayer.

Orchard Cover Crop Fertilizing Advised

Orchard cover crops should receive liberal fertilization in late February or early March. Fred Dreiling, associate horticulturist at VPI, declares if the cover crop is made up mainly of legumes, apply 200 pounds per acre of 8-12-12. If the cover crop is made up mainly of grasses, apply 300 pounds per acre of 4-12-4.

Wilson took down upon those cabinet meetings. The first three did much to give us a republic; the latter two did much to preserve it. The problems facing President Eisenhower are no less grave.

Mr. P. F. Murray,
 Mayor,
 City of Virginia Beach,
 Virginia Beach, Virginia

Dear Mr. Murray:

As a taxpayer interested in the welfare of Virginia Beach, I am greatly disturbed at your efforts to destroy the Chamber of Commerce of Virginia Beach by withholding public funds which aid in the support of this institution.

First of all, I think that this body has contributed more to stimulate tourist interest in this community than any other group in the city. Its efforts for the expansion of outside interest have been legion; the sacrifices of its officers in both time and money have been great.

From a coldly objective examination of the facts in the case, I am able to ascertain that your efforts have been motivated by personal hostility towards the President of the Chamber rather than by a mature appraisal of the promotional value rendered the City by the Chamber of Commerce.

I am astonished that a public official could be so lacking in his sense of responsibility to the community

TAGGED FISH TELL TALES SAYS LABORATORIAN

"No fish can be made to talk, but we can force him to answer some questions," says W. H. Massman of Virginia Fisheries Laboratory at Gloucester Point.

Enlarging on his statement, Massman said shad already appearing in Chesapeake Bay for their spring run have revealed some secrets by carrying a tag from one place to another.

"Tagging studies by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service have shown that most shad return to spawn in the streams where they were hatched," Massman pointed out. "Shad may wander great distances before and after spawning. A shad tagged in the Potomac River last year was caught less than two weeks later near Portland, Me. Two tagged at the mouth of the James River were recaptured in the St.

as to attempt to destroy an agency which promotes the interests of that community.

I vigorously protest your action and urge that you consider your action in relationship to your public responsibility. Resolve your personal differences along channels which will not be detrimental to the welfare of the community.

I am,

Very truly yours,

High School. Safety Patrols Are Reorganized

The Virginia Beach High School Safety Patrol has made a number of changes for the second term of the school, according to a statement made by Mrs. Frank Avett, sponsor. Pupils who have served on the patrol for one semester and who desired to be relieved were given an opportunity to resign. They were replaced by volunteers who were approved by their teachers.

To become a member of the patrol, a student must be a good citizen, cooperative and tactful. The 36 students who have served on the patrol during the fall term have given faithful service to the school by helping to make their schoolmates more safety conscious. Felice Miller will serve as Captain for Patrol 1 during the spring semester, and Ernest Killen, as Captain for Patrol 2.

The Patrol is sponsored by the Rotary Club which bought raincoats and hats to outfit the patrol.

HOME EC CLASSES COMPLETE TERM WORK

The pupils in the home economic classes under the supervision of Miss Harriet Steel have recently completed their first semester's projects. The chief project was the making of accessories for the department itself. This department consists of a suite of completely furnished rooms. The pupils made draperies, a bed spread,

City-County School Office Opened Here

An office for the Princess Anne County-Virginia Beach City school system has been established at the new Virginia Beach High School, it has been announced by Frank W. Cox, divisional superintendent.

embroidered dish towels, place mats, doilies and pot holders.

During the last month the pupils also made two sets of costumes for the Junior Woman's Club "Scandal" which was held in the school auditorium last week.

JOB'S DAUGHTERS SPONSOR DANCE

The Virginia Beach Bethel of Job's Daughters will hold a Valentine dance on February 14 at the Masonic Temple on 20th Street and Arctic Avenue. The hours will be from 8 to 11:30 o'clock.

All members of Job's Daughters and their friends are invited and urged to support the dance by their attendance. There will be no admission charge but those attending are requested to make a donation.

The dance will be semi-formal and a queen will be selected and crowned. Those vying for the title of queen are Eva Lee Savage, Betty Murden, Dorothy Nisor and Ellen Reiterbach. Lorraine Cox, Senior Princess of the Bethel, is chairman of the dance.

THE STOOGEE

Comical Jerry Lewis, above, and his partner, Dean Martin, are coming to the Beach Theatre on Wednesday, February 18, in their latest picture, "The Stooge." The number one comedy team may be seen on the local screen for four days.

Orchard Rotation Plan Advised

An orchard rotation plan will enable fruit growers to harvest more and better fruit, says Fred Dreiling, associate horticulturist at VPI. He says that a survey of fruit growers in major fruit-growing sections indicate that the most profitable crops are borne in the early life of an orchard when the trees are relatively young. Consequently many growers are making new plantings regularly, and on good sites, in a careful plan to keep young trees advancing to replace older ones.

When the trees are between 12 and 25 to be the most profitable for apple trees; from 5 to 15 years for peach trees; and from 7 to 20 years for cherry trees. Most trees of these ages, with their natural vigor, will produce fruit of marketable size with a minimum of thinning. They also require less pruning. They can be pruned, sprayed, and harvested more satisfactorily and with lower costs than large, old trees.

Safety Conference Plans Announced

March 1, 2 and 3 will see the 14th annual Southern Safety Conference and Exposition to be held at the Biltmore Hotel in Atlanta, Ga. F. C. Bookman, safety director, Virginia Electric and Power Company, and Southern Safety Conference director from Virginia, announced this week, with a plea that all persons interested in attending secure their reservations early.

The conference and exposition not only is the largest such meeting in the South, but features also the largest exhibition of safety equipment and covers all fields of safety. Participation will be by representative safety officials from the states of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Texas, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

The sweetening agent in licorice is nearly 50 times as sweet as cane sugar.

It is believed that the Aunt McKim, built in Baltimore in 1832, was the first real clipper ship.

Dance at Chesapeake Beach Nets $325 for March of Dimes Fund

The sum of $325 will be turned over to the March of Dimes hospital by the Women's Club of Chesapeake Beach as proceeds from the annual March of Dimes dance, according to Mrs. L. I. Dillon, president of the group. Complete tabulation of other club projects for the fund is not yet available, she said.

The polo final dance was held Thursday at Holiday Inn, with 150 people attending. The building and facilities were donated by the owner of the Inn, I. G. Hoggard. Mrs. I. H. Petty, welfare chairman for the club, was in charge of the dance and Mrs. W. B. Meekins was in charge of arrangements for the dance.

Ocean Park Club To Stage Bazaar

The annual bazaar of the Ocean Park Club will be held on Friday, March 27, it was announced following a recent meeting of the executive board of that organization.

Chairmen for the various features of the bazaar will be announced later. Mrs. D. B. Hill, club president, said.

Mrs. U. F. Wortham, president of the Sixth District of Women's Clubs, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the club yesterday in the Club room at the fire house. Her topic was "The Collect."

From sources such as the annual dance, the Mothers March and the miniature iron hings placed in stores, the club collected a total of $453.14, with litter contributions expected to swell this total. Mrs. Walter Holland, club welfare chairman, was in charge of the "dinner" drive in the area.

Mrs. Holland will also head the letter cards to the Philippines and the Bahamas, to be used in missionary work.

The welfare chairman asked for volunteers to work at Little Creek during the visit of the Bloodmobile to that place tomorrow.

Mrs. Holland will also head the forthcoming Red Cross drive in the Ocean Park area.

Decorations for yesterday's meeting were in charge of Mrs. H. W. Parham, and hostesses were Mesdames D. W. Jones, M. I. Moore, O. L. Gilbert, I. S. Haldaway, R. S. Bugge and Miss Julia Ann Reilly. Mrs. Ivan D. Mupp was chairman at the meeting.

"Brotherhood Week," Feb. 15-22, Observance to be Nation-wide

All over the nation, the slogan of "Brotherhood—For Peace and Freedom" will be heard from February 15 to 22 as special activities mark the 26th annual observance of Brotherhood Week, sponsored annually by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Spurred on by proclamations from the governors of most states and by mayors of large and small cities, more than 7,000 American and Canadian communities will schedule programs dedicated to the ideal of the brotherhood of man under the Fatherhood of God.

President Eisenhower has agreed to lead the national observance as honorary chairman, continuing a precedent first established by Franklin D. Roosevelt and maintained by ex-President Truman.

Special religious services will be held all through the week by American churches and synagogues. In addition appropriate events sponsored by civic bodies will give evidence of their desire to build better understanding and good will among Protestants, Catholics and Jews, according to Roger W. Straus, who is serving as general chairman of Brotherhood Week. The week's observance will mark the 25th anniversary of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, organized in 1928 "to promote justice, unity, understanding and cooperation" among the racial and religious groups on the American scene, said Mr. Straus, who is also serving as general chairman of the anniversary celebration.

Theme of the Silver Jubilee anniversary is "Twenty-five Years of Practical Achievement in Brotherhood," he added.

Mr. Straus hailed the progress made during the past twenty-five years in promoting better inter-group relations. He praised the efforts made by American citizens in every section of the country to break down hostilities and tensions among Protestants, Catholics and Jews.

"This is encouraging progress," Mr. Straus declared. "The National Conference seeks to make the spiritual power of democracy prevail in the day to day life of each American. Towards that end the organization has enlisted leadership and followed a program that mobilizes moral and spiritual resources for brotherhood."

NEW CIRCLE OFFICERS

"Gallon Pin" Blood Donors Tell Why They Give: Await Next Call

Why persons contribute to the National Blood Program was clearly revealed this week when its four current one gallon donors were interviewed by Virginia Beach Chapter American Red Cross. All the donors required the need of collection for the armed forces, but they also realized the need of blood for civilian hospitals and for building a plasma reserve for possible civil defense requirements and for production of plasma proteins such as gamma globulin to aid in the fight against infantile paralysis.

There is a two-fold reason for Glenn Dill's donations to the blood of blood for the war wounded. A man, Dill, who resides with Mrs. Dill at 606 Carolina Avenue, lost his only son, a 19-year-old, in Korea on February 13, 1951. Dill is also handicapped with the results of a serious pneumonia. He is married, the father of two children, and lives at 219 "gallon pin" or last month's collection.

Embodiment the same spirit that prompted the founding of the Red Cross, Mrs. L. J. Andersen, 205 75th Street, gives her blood for anyone who may be in need of it.

"Giving blood means more than obtaining blood; it is giving something infinitely precious, something that cannot be bought, something that may mean life itself for others," she said. Mrs. Andersen, a 21-pint donor, has no one in the services, nor has there ever been in the past for a member of her family to receive blood.

Another new recipient of a "gallon pin," J. Peter Holland, III, Virginia Beach attorney, well knows the value of blood for the war wounded. A man, Dill, who resides with Mrs. Dill at 606 Carolina Avenue, lost his only son, a 19-year-old, in Korea on February 13, 1951. Dill is also handicapped with the results of a serious pneumonia. He is married, the father of two children, and lives at 219 "gallon pin" or last month's collection.

Mrs. St. Clair Webb, Jr., of 512 22nd Street, not only gives blood herself, but she encourages others to insure an ample supply in Korea. She never knows when her husband, Captain Webb, a Second Army Division Engineer, now missing two long years, will be found and be in need of the precious fluid. There are two small girls in the Webb family.

When the Bloodmobile unit comes again to Virginia Beach on March 27 for its next collection, these regular donors will be there. Others will take the hint.

David B. Lackey Receives Ribbon

Cadet David Bentley Lackey, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Lackey of Ocean View, was one of ten Oak Ridge Military Institute cadets who maintained an unblemished record for the semester ending last week. It has been announced by the superintendent of cadets at the Oak Ridge, N. C., school.

A special ribbon has been authorized to signify the completion of the semester without a single demerit.

Wintering Waterfowl Show Increase

The number of waterfowl wintering and feeding on the Hog Island Waterfowl Refuge in the lower James River has increased by 25% the number using the area last year, according to C. P. Gilchrist, waterfowl technician for the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries.

An average population of some 4,000 Canadian geese are wintering on Hog Island. These birds remain on the open waters during the day and come into the island late in the evening to feed on the winter grain fields.

As yet, no developments have been made to increase the number feeding ducks on the island, but there has been a noticeable increase in the waterfowl population in general, especially black ducks, said Gilchrist. During 1953, the Commission plans to construct dikes to bring the water on the island under control in order to substantially increase the duck population on the island.

PARIS FASHION FLASHES: Straw hats in all possible forms, including polka dot straws, plaid straws and lace straws have been introduced by Paris hatmakers lately. Much emphasis on flowery straw bonnets for Spring and large, shady party hats with much glamour for summertime. Coronation-inspired crown of flowers, buds and cherries... Straw toques in a Victorian manner and even Scotch plaid cloches. Partisan hat designers lean towards the little round, and not overloaded with trimmings bonnets for Easter time, with most Spring hats sitting slightly forward with little half-brims cupping the brow. The pet, upstirled from the back of the neck is new. One French bonnet designer even brought forth a flat-crowned trimmed straw hat in black leather, polished like a shoe. That goes in my "now-I've-heard-everything" department.

The independent group of fashion models have already launched three trends for Spring: Fully flared skirts, a "forgotten waistline," and a waistline fitted in front but loose in the back. Another popularly favored silhouette was wide in the shoulders, tapering to a narrow hem, with the length seeming to be unchanged. These trends, however, may or may not be followed up by the bigger French fashion houses. We'll just have to wait and see.

Alex Magay is expected to favor the boyish, slim-waisted and virtually hipless silhouette and this is not surprising news when we hear that Alex, who believes that fashion still won't get away from dominant classic shades into violent color, has commissioned artist Kisting to create a lively pink that will give warmth to the otherwise two-toned choice of Magay's black and white. Kisting has keyed the new rosy pink to the complexion make-up of Ava Gardner. Sinagra who is the number one customer at the Magay salon. (We will see lots of pink from now on in... what with Mamie pink, First Lady pink, Penn pink, Arden pink, etc.) Tiny glamour bags made of sparkling sequins, gold colored beads and iridescent celluloid wings, imported from France, are top accessory favorites of Washington ladies where the bugs are perching on their collars, cuffs, glove tops and so on, and causing much admiring comment.

Wait for them hereabouts soon. FASHION FLASHES FROM ENGLAND: Flowered tiaras and coronets will have terrific popularity on the Continent, on the British Isles, and in America this summer. (If you whip up yourself, too, either make-believe or real flowers.) Dig by Morton is no fond of the box jackets, featuring them in many of his designs for Philip Mangone Easter suits. Norman Hartnell, Morton, Peter Russell, Worth, Michael Sherard, Matill and John Cavanaugh are now splashing elegance and formality in their court-function Spring fashion. Daytime wear is distinguished by superb and famous English tailoring and evening dresses are over-the-top in fabrics. Many Elizabethan in character.

Beautiful gold and silver medallions, with Queen Elizabeth's likeness on them, hung on heavy chains, are appearing in New York's shops; some

FASTNACHT DAY

You know, a good many holidays seem to be based on fast days—had you ever thought about that? Each fast day usually fits in with some custom—and food so often has a part in the celebration.

The day before Lent, Shrove Tuesday and February 17th is Shrove Tuesday this year—is generally "pancake day." The Pennsylvania Dutch celebrate it by serving fastnachts for breakfast, nice fluffy ones. They think of it as Fastnacht Day.

Do you know what "fastnachts" are? To us they are doughnuts. Nobody seems to know how this breakfast tradition of fastnachts on Shrove Tuesday started. Some say it began because the good Pennsylvania Dutch cooks had to use up all the fat in the house before the six long, fatless weeks of Lent—and of course Shrove Tuesday is the day before Lent. I am sure you and your family will love to start the day with a Dutch doughnut—surely that would be a breakfast treat for any cold February day.

The Pennsylvania Dutch get up early on Shrove Tuesday and say: "The last one up is a lazy doughnut."

I found a recipe for fastnachts that I hope you will like. The traditional fastnacht shape was square. You can cut the dough any shape you like. You'll find these fragrant-smelling Continental doughnuts a treat to eat—whether for breakfast, lunch or tea.

FASTNACHTS

3 medium potatoes—cook and mash
3/4 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
7 to 8 cups all-purpose flour
1 yeast cake
1/2 cup warm water
1 stick butter or margarine
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

encircled with real or imitation diamonds. Replicas of the golden spurs, symbols of knightly chivalry, which will be presented to the Queen to touch with her hand—during the long coronation ceremony—are also being shown in the better shops.

FASHION FLASH FROM AMERICA: Believe it or not, the versatile jacket is here in style for another season! Many new forms of this handy little jacket are popping up in the Spring showings. Both as a style in itself and as the trend-setting part of a costume, the jacket is important. For instance, there is the cape jacket which is a trimly fitted version that hugs the figure almost like a cape and makes up for its tight neckline, low shoulders and figure-molded front by loosening its back lines to give a gradual flare and dipping length.

A distinctly new line for Spring is the post-box style jacket with its tab closing and slant-wise pockets. There's the middy jacket staging a revival, straight and short and hugging the hips the while. Cardigan jackets are continuing their popularity from winter months right on into Spring months, too, with their rounded-off corners and tiny fold-back collars for identification. Newer jackets are those fitted to waist-length and with a short joined cape behind. Much accent on your jacket this Spring, you'll have to agree.

This Spring separates are better than ever, too. It's about time the hangers-back give in to the after-five fashion of being chic in glamour separates. They're mighty practical and comfy. Simple sweaters and skirts, blouses and skirts or sophisticated, be-jeweled affairs are smart and always pocketable for weekend away from home.

My hat's off to navy for Spring! '33! Navy fashions are happily worn by business, professional and career girls as well as merry matrons and grand dames alike. Your all-time Springtime color classic is navy—more important than ever now because of the thrilling new silhouettes it has assumed. Yes, indeed, bright and gay colors, black and white or what will you, it's still looking to a navy Spring!

Peel potatoes and cook until tender. Save 1 cup of water when draining water from potatoes. Pour in large mixing bowl. Stir in sugar, salt and 1 cup of flour. Beat until smooth and add yeast cake that has been dissolved in 1/2 cup warm water, and beat. Cover and let rise in warm place until bubbly. In another mixing bowl put 1 cup of hot mashed potatoes, beat in shortening, eggs and nutmeg, then add the bubbly mixture and remainder of flour—enough to make stiff dough. Turn out on floured board and knead until smooth and very elastic. Cover and let rise until double in bulk. Now punch down, cover and put in refrigerator. When ready to make out, take from refrigerator and roll out about 1/2 inch thick, cut in shape you want—(try the squares)—with sharp knife. If you decide on the squares, cut about two inches square. Place on floured board, cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Drop doughnuts in hot fat (oil), and when the rise to the top and brown, turn over and brown on other side. Drain on paper towel. To coat doughnuts with sugar, shake a few at a time in paper bag, using half cup of granulated sugar and adding more if and when needed. This recipe will make about four dozen fastnachts.

Old-Fashioned Pancakes

Here's a pancake recipe that is just an old-timey one, but mighty good:

Scaled 1/4 cup corn meal in 1 cup water—with 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar and shortening size of large egg. Let cool few minutes, and add 2 cups milk 1 egg and beat into corn meal mixture. Now add 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder and stir until thoroughly mixed, adding more salt as needed to taste this batter. Fry on medium hot, slightly greased griddle and stack them. Do better than as you stack them and keep in warm place until serving time.

Good? Well, ask Pappy.

Bye now, see you next week.

People, Places, Stuff &amp; Things

The Eisenhower Rose, a deep red bloom developed by Conrad-Pyle Rose Growers, will be launched by the rose growers of America as one of the big attractions of the National Capital Flower and Garden Show March 5-11 at the National Guard Armory, Washington. Those rose folks are certainly losing no time!

Frances Perkins, who will soon step out of her Washington career which began in 1933, will be 70 in April and has no intention of retiring and thinking in her rocking chair. She is writing a book and will make the state of Maine her legal residence although she was born in Boston, and was educated at Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass. Famous recent quote: "Politics is a hazardous trade."

When Mary Martin closed her "South Pacific" engagement in London recently, one statistician figured that as "Nellie Forbush" she had actually washed her hair on stage, 500 times! (What they won't think up next to prove something or other.)

Who remembers that Irene Castle hung up her dancing shoes in 1923? She too kicked them down again last fall to stage the four dances that are featured by the young leads in Sally Benson's new comedy, "Josephine." Irene is now living in a smart Chicago suburb and is a grandmother like you and you and you! And a beautiful one, too.

"A Brigher Sun," the new book about the Caribbean islands and its natives, written by Islander Samuel Selvon, should prove exciting reading for the recent South American-West Indies cruises.

President Ike, in an interview with round-the-world newswoman Higgins, recently recommended Eric Hoffer's "The True Believer" for background material about mass movements and why people turn to causes like Communism and Fascism. He doesn't just read a book, either, according to Marguerite Higgins. He debates it, via marginal notes.

Captain Butts, Oceana Naval Air Training Station, seemed plenty proud to be based on fast days—had you ever thought about that? Each fast day usually fits in with some custom—and food so often has a part in the celebration.

SAFARI INTO ARIZONA

Nogales was a rich and exciting experience. We left Tucson about 9 in the brilliant sunlight that Arizona possesses and thinks she produces, heading toward the (let's see) east I guess. The sun and moon do differently here; the stars are the same, only seem closer to you.

We drove by huge ranch farms with cunning adobe houses (adobe may be cute, but is quite expensive now) surrounded by the feathery pepper trees, stately cottonwoods and hundreds of Pal Averdi. If I were composing an horticulturist's catalogue, I would go into these, but it would take a volume and I must leave more; there is so much new to me in the way of trees, flowers and shrubs, and so pretty.

Some of the wealthy ranch owners have dredged natural lakes right near a grove of cottonwood and peppers; a welcome sight for my home-sick eyes. Nothing, not even the stately Catalinas, can touch our Crystal Lake. Let me pause to wipe a tear.

Droves of fat sheep and equally fat cattle fed contentedly on some sort of brownish growth; not green grass, but I understand it is most nourishing. Bet it is full of vitamins, think it might be a good idea to cook it.

Although adobe is costly, one enterprising rancher hired a Mexican and made his own adobe brick. Reminds us of the "Tabby" construction we saw in an old fort at Bruickville, Ga., still standing after 150 years. Cyster shells, sand, water and hard power. Rather makes me long for pioneer living; much more fun.

Finally Nogales. Nogales, with as much local charm as a Spanish town. You go from Arizona to Mexico by way of an American gate, by which swanky Mexican officers in U. S. garb stand in the sun and look very grand, and love looking that way.

The streets are very narrow, few cars. Those the Mex. drive are very old. One poor chap was under his, fixing it where it slides, stopping traffic. Nobody seemed to mind; just sat and smoked and chatted, shouting lazy, quizzical instructions to the pair of legs emerging from the 1940 auto.

Hundreds of little shops sit cheek by jowl, displaying their colorful ware. If one owner does not have what you want, he runs next door, or across the street, shouting at the top of his voice what the Americans want. "Madre de Dios" does not have on his overgrown shelves.

Numero 24 had the most exciting things, and was decorated by a wide eyed madonna, whose gestures, shrugs and wide smiles held me so fascinated, forgot to get the price of a serpent. I was looking off as quick as your name, and don't you paint pictures!" "Hoyores Felix. I take the blessing ministrations, go to school a leech, and then the bambino; you know. A happy smile, a quick shrug and life's problems were brushed off as quick as your name, and don't you paint pictures!" "Hoyores Felix. I take the blessing ministrations, go to school a leech, and then the bambino; you know. A happy smile, a quick shrug and life's problems were brushed off as quick as your name, and don't you paint pictures!"

There were baskets of every description and size and shape. Almost spoke to a tall straw man who stood in the doorway with HIS HAND OUT. "Lady, lady, I got anything you want, come in and see. Lady, lady, get your picture taken. I make you beautiful." Naturally we fell for that; and while a kindly shopkeeper draped us with red, gold and black serapes, and wide straw sombreros, we got into true Western poses, or thought so anyhow.

While we stood laughing and gazing in the sunny street he old some conjuring with the natives, finally dropping them a bucket of water. Of course, we were not beautiful, and he looked so sad for us.

To my astonishment he had put my face on a lush-looking figure of a young female astride a prancing steed. Only feely cents more, and your lover will like it.

Well, grandmamas don't indulge in such nonsense, nevertheless I bought it, so that if I can never realize the dream of riding on some old well-mannered horse, I will like it.

February Is Pancake Month!

By JANE ASHLEY

Pancake Day is on February 19th this year. Tuesday before Ash Wednesday. Pancakes are an American favorite any day, and popular for breakfast or supper as well as for a party. Surprise your guests on Sunday night, with the rich, fluffy pancakes. And serve them with crisp sausage or bacon and corn syrup.

Southern Corn Meal Pancakes
2 cups corn meal
4 tablespoons flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, well-beaten
2 cups milk
3 tablespoons salad oil

Mix and stir dry ingredients. Make a well and add remaining ingredients all at once; stir only enough to dampen ingredients. Batter will be lumpy. Bake on hot, oiled griddle until golden brown; turn and bake until brown on other side. Makes about 14 griddle cakes, 4 1/2 inches in diameter.

Easy-Mix Flaky Pastry
(Makes 1-crust 9-inch pie)
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup salad oil
2 1/2 tablespoons ice water

Sift together flour and salt. Combine salad oil and ice water in measuring cup. Beat with fork until thickened and creamy. To avoid separation, immediately pour, all at once, over flour mixture. Toss and mix with fork. The dough will be moist. Form into ball; shape with hands into a flat round.

Pace between 2 squares of wax paper about 12 inches square. (Paper will not slip if table is wiped with damp cloth.) Roll out to form circle, reaching edges of paper. Remove top sheet of paper; invert dough over pan; peel 1/4 inch beyond rim of pan. Fold edge and flute. Prick entire surface of crust. Bake in hot oven (475°F.) 10 to 12 minutes or until well browned.

For dessert at lunch or dinner on St. Valentine's Day, we suggest this unusual pie. It is colorful, too, for the right party touch!

Maraschino Cherry Pie
1 4-oz. bottle maraschino cherries
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons corn starch
2 cups milk
1 egg, well-beaten (optional)
1/4 teaspoon vanilla

1 baked 9-inch Easy-Mix Flaky Mosaic Pie Shell

Drain maraschino cherries; reserve juice. Chop cherries. Mix sugar, salt and corn starch in the top of double boiler. Combine milk, egg and maraschino cherry juice. Gradually add mixture to dry ingredients, stirring until smooth. Place over boiling water and cook, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Cover and continue cooking 10 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat. Pour in chopped cherries and vanilla; stir. Four into baked 9-inch pie shell. Chill. Top with whipped cream, if desired.

*Contents of 1 4-oz. bottle maraschino cherries is equivalent to 1/2 cup cherries with juice.

CAVALIERS TAKE MATHEW WHALEY QUINT—45-41

The Mathew Whaley Governors bowed to Oceana in an exciting tilt last Friday night in the Cavalier gym. Marshall took the lead by scoring 20 points, while Whitehead was second with 10. The final score was 45-41.

On Friday night the local boys will play Churchill, on their opponent's home court.

Dolls, the best loved toys in the world, although known to date back to the Stone Age, did not become common toys for children until about the 18th century.

What To Do With $150 Billions Bothering Abdullah of Kuwait

His Highness Abdullah as Sultan of Kuwait, owner of Kuwait, faces one of the world's most peculiar problems—what to do with an income of $150,000,000 a year.

No income taxes cut into this bonanza. There are no restrictions on what he might buy—gold, pearls or palaces, gold-plated limousines or stock-trading yachts.

But instead, Abdullah seems to be just turning his hidden wealth into a far better way of life for 170,000 people in an ancient and neglected part of the world. A remarkable transformation is taking place in the tiny emirate of Kuwait at the head of the Persian Gulf, the National Geographic Magazine reports in an article by Near East traveler Paul Edward Case.

Kuwait rests on a virtual ocean of oil. Beneath its sands are an estimated 16 billion barrels of black gold—a proved petroleum reserve roughly half that of the United States.

Trapping this pool at a current rate of $60,000 barrels a day, the Kuwait Oil Company pays the Sheikdom an even 50 per cent of all profits.

By dynastic law the sheik receives this money as personal income. He alone decides what to do with it all. In the last few years, his enlightened decisions have given a once-backward country new hospitals, schools, a modern water supply, and an enviable position as potential banker of the Near East.

Boom has come in no uncertain terms to Kuwait's feudal capital, also named Kuwait. Shiny cars, trucks and giant earth-moving machinery rumble through busy bazaars among camels and goats. Arabs in flowing robes, gorgeous Bedouins and veiled Kuwaiti women mingle with roustabouts from Texas and Oklahoma and businessmen from London. Kuwait works today at the tempo of Times Square trans-

The Salasky Optical Co., a name known to residents of Princess Anne County for over 40 years and located NOW at 2101 Atlantic Avenue, across from Cherry-Pearson's Men's Shop—has been offering to the people of this community an optical service that is generally associated only with a metropolitan area.

This service is quick, accurate, and reliable. For those who have the misfortune to need optical repairs and cannot be without their eyeglasses, the Salasky Optical Co. can make these repairs, while you wait and thereby NOT have to be without your good vision for all your workday seeing.

Winter Colds May be Caused by Anger or Fear Say Researchers

the researchers found that "emotional sweating"—a phenomenon touched off by stress—can be a problem. "You can't attach the feet, because cold and dampness, which leaves you prey to the next cold germ that comes along."

Cold, wet feet, whether caused by "emotional sweating" or by wearing rubbers and overboots for long hours, may also keep your feet dry, and cause them to shed their outermost, most vulnerable layer of skin, leaving them more susceptible to infection.

Your feet will weather the months better if you wear a dry, sturdy sock in winter, and a sturdy, easy-to-put-on shoe that will loosen up the feet if they startle and frequently whip up blood circulation. If you go to bed, walk on floors or in shoes that are damp, then rub the soles vigorously a dry towel.

For extended periods, are one of the most common causes of colds, medical men say. They recommend that you remove overcoats as soon as you step indoors, or when you start a journey in a heated automobile or train.

Over-protection of the feet, a common fault in winter, can bring on considerable trouble, foot specialists warn. By all means

There's an Art in Keeping Coffee Flavor Right for Second Cups

The woman who has mastered the simple art of brewing a perfect cup of coffee should never forget that this doesn't quite take care of her total responsibility to coffee-loving family and guests.

There's the matter of serving it right. This means seeing to it that the brew makes contact with the human palate while it is fresh and at the proper temperature.

The best way to guarantee freshness is to serve the coffee as soon as it is made. But there is always the reserve supply from which second helpings will be poured. And for maximum goodness of taste, this must be held at just the right temperature. Insufficient heating of the waiting brew will result in a disappointing lukewarm drink. With too much heat you run the risk of boiling—and spoiling—the brew.

Brewing experts of the National Coffee Association recommend two easy methods of holding the beverage at serving temperature. One way is to place the coffee pot in a pan of hot water; another is to place it on an asbestos pad over low heat.

Inventors and manufacturers of kitchen equipment have also recognized the importance of the heating factor in correct coffee brewing, and they have all done their bit to help.

Practically all automatic type coffee makers, for instance, have thermostats that reduce the heat the instant the brew is completed. Then there is the coffee warmer whose source of subdued heat is a candle. Thermos coffee picklers will keep the brew piping hot until seconds are you can buy serving tables whose entire tops are electrically heated.

For those who still insist that coffee straight from the pot the second it is done tastes best after all, the answer is to start brewing a fresh batch shortly after you fill the cups from the first.

Boy Scouts Plan Third Jamboree

The Boy Scouts of America, this week celebrating Boy Scout Week and marking its 43rd birthday, is planning its third National Jamboree for this summer as part of its three year program known as "Forward on Liberty's Team."

It will be a "once in a lifetime" experience for 50,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers and Scout Leaders of all races and creeds who will live in a democratic tent city that will rise on a real western ranch near the Pacific ocean.

The owners of Irvine Ranch in the Newport Harbor area in southern California, about 40 miles south of Los Angeles, have loaned a 3,000-acre site to the Boy Scouts of America. Here will spring up, literally overnight, a city of 30,000 tents, with its own electricity, water supply, sanitation, telephone system, food supply, doctors, fire protection, in fact all essentials found in a community of this size.

Boys from all walks of life, of all races and creeds will live together including about 200 Scouts from other countries around the world. Here in the youthful city they will exchange skills, home-town products and learn about the customs and traditions of many sections of the nation.

REARSL COLUMBIA . . . Dr. Grayson L. Kirk has been named to succeed Gen. Eisenhower as president of Columbia University. Kirk has been acting chief since Dec., 1950.

There will be pageants and ceremonies, campfires and music, demonstrations of campcraft and Scoutcraft, friendship-making and the opportunity of meeting some of America's outstanding citizens.

Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive, sees the Jamboree as a "top experience in the life of a boy" and local leaders of the movement hope to see several from the resort and surrounding county in attendance.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Biff" Falls for His Own Story

Biff Morgan's four-year-old daughter Rusty is something of a night owl. Stays awake way past her bedtime.

Every night Mrs. Morgan complained about how hard it was to get Rusty to go to sleep. Finally Biff decided to handle the situation. "Anyone can get a kid to sleep — takes a little patience! Here, hand me her storybook."

He grabs the book and goes into Rusty's room. About an hour later Rusty comes padding out in pajamas and hands her mother the book. "Read it quietly," she whispers, "so we don't wake Daddy."

From where I sit, Biff won't be so quick to be a "child-care specialist" the next time. If we could just read just a few "how it all" bits, our neighbors would be better off. Take those who would do me a glass of beer with my supper — well, I might not care for the buttermilk they like. We all ought to realize that we all have different abilities and different preferences, too.

Virginia Methodists Prepare For April United Evangelistic Mission

The Methodist Churches of the Virginia Conference are preparing for a great united evangelistic mission throughout the state from April 17 to 26. The plan involves bringing about 500 visiting preachers from the surrounding states to assist the 500 Virginia Conference ministers in the visitation and preaching evangelism missions in about 500 Methodist charges, and involving participation of nearly 1,100 Methodist churches in the program.

This is a part of a great revival of the Methodist united evangelistic

Bishop Gunn at Galilee Sunday

The Rt. Rev. George P. Gunn, D.D., will preach at the 11 a. m. service Sunday February 15, on the occasion of his annual visitation to the parish. He will also administer the ancient sacramental rite of confirmation to a large class of young people and adults who are seeking admission to the adult responsibilities and privileges of membership in the Episcopal Church. The public and the congregation are urged to attend and give a warm welcome to the Bishop of Southern Virginia on his visit to Virginia Beach.

The final adult confirmation class is being held today at 8 p. m. in the church.

Two services will be conducted at Galilee Church on Ash Wednesday by the rector. One service of penitential office and communion will be at 10:30 a. m., February 18, and at 8 p. m. there will be evening prayer and sermon.

mission which shall be conducted throughout the Southeastern jurisdiction of the Methodist Church, covering nine states (Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Cuba). Preaching services and visitation evangelism will be held in one half of these churches, April 17-24 and in the other half May 1-8. The pastors in these two divisions will exchange their services, helping each other. In this arrangement, the pastors from the Western North Carolina Conference will assist their Virginia brother pastors, and in May the Virginia pastors will go to the Western North Carolina churches. Participating in the entire mission will be eight Episcopal areas, sixteen annual conferences, 141 districts, 12,123 churches and 5,218 pastors.

A highlight will be the 18 Youth Rallies to be carried out on Saturday evening, April 18, in strategic centers over the state. An attendance of 30,000 youth and sponsors is expected.

A second feature of the united evangelistic mission will be the 16 schools of evangelism for pastors, under the leadership of outstanding pastors from many parts of the nation. In the schools the pastors will be trained in the new techniques of visitation evangelism, pulp evangelism and membership assimilation.

Bishop Paul N. Garber, presiding bishop of the Richmond area, will lead the united evangelistic mission in the Virginia and North Carolina conferences.

The executive director of the movement in the Virginia conference is the Rev. Eugene E. Golay, of Nashville, Tenn., an associate secretary of the General Board of Evangelism of the Methodist Church. The purpose of the mission is to reinvigorate inactive members, to create a new spiritual atmosphere for the membership of the churches, and to go out and win new persons. This motive is expressed in the sentence, "You need Christ now." The visitation program will utilize thousands upon thousands of laymen.

The tea will open with a formal flag ceremony, using the 14 NAIT flags which were raised in Norfolk last spring with the assumption of a committee of Admiral McCormick. After the ceremony, the Scouts will present a program with a roll call of the 32 member countries of the Girl Scout and Girl Guides, sprinkled with folk dances and songs from other lands.

Local Yachtsmen Now in Florida

Five local yachts carrying the burgee of the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club are wintering in Florida waters. They include H. E. Savage's "Alke," now docked at Fort Lauderdale's Bahia Mar marina. The Savages have taken a slip there for the season. Also at Bahia Mar is Sterling Hoke's 50-foot Chris Craft "Brenda IV." Taylor Johnson's "Three Sisters" left several weeks ago in charge of Captain Amos Daniels for Fort Lauderdale, where the Johnsons have taken a cottage for the season. Ray Camp's new 47-foot Chris-Craft, the "Kraft," which was delivered in December, is now docked at the Pompano Yacht Basin. Nick Wilson, Mac Jenkins and Julian Herbst were guests aboard on the trip south. Jack Aspinwall, also sport fisherman, the "Wahoo," is at West Palm Beach.

Stop-Gap Supply of Polio Drug, Gamma Globulin, Available for Use

If Virginia should experience a polio epidemic this summer, gamma globulin will be available as a stop-gap, according to a statement made this week by Mrs. Henschel L. Burroughs, State Adviser on Women's Activities for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"It should be remembered," declared Mrs. Burroughs, "that gamma globulin can only be used to reduce the crippling effects of polio. It is not a preventive. The preventive is the vaccine which has just been discovered, but is not yet ready or available for widespread use. Many further tests must be made before it can be general."

In order to fill the need until such time as the vaccine can be perfected for general use, the National Foundation has made arrangements to purchase all commercial gamma globulin available at an expense of five million dollars for March of 1953. This commercial gamma globulin will be given to a distributive pool, in all probability the National Research Council, which will allocate the necessary amounts to the various states on a formula yet to be developed.

This high-level type of distribution will assure all families in Virginia that should another epidemic develop such as that at Wytheville, the Foundation will have available a quantity of material to reduce the resulting paralysis as has been evidenced by the studies made in the mid-west during the past two years.

Mrs. Burroughs pointed out, however, that the supply of gamma globulin will not be sufficient to meet the need in all cases of polio. "There is just not enough," she said. Therefore, in order to be fair and derive the most benefit from the available supply, it can only be used in areas that are the hardest hit by the disease.

The members of the Women's Activities Committee in the county chapters of the National Foundation will be asked to distribute information concerning the development and uses of gamma globulin during the spring months as an additional part of their volunteer work.

Commerce Body Resolution Goes To City Council

The Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce, in an official resolution adopted by its Board of Directors, has asked the City of Virginia Beach to appropriate the maximum amount of money allowed by law for advertising the resort.

The resolution further stated that the funds be earmarked for use by the advertising committee of the Chamber and that the committee certify bills to the city treasurer for payment.

Text of the resolution follows:

"To the City Council, City of Virginia Beach:

"In recognition of the urgency of a continuous and emphatic campaign of publicity and promotion for the City of Virginia Beach and recognizing the special need for an early start in the publicity and promotion of our new million dollar beach and being at all times interested and working for the welfare of the community.

"Therefore be it resolved, that we, the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce of Virginia Beach by unanimous consent do respectfully request the City Council of the City of Virginia Beach to appropriate the maximum amount of Advertising Funds allowable by law, to wit, 3% of the total revenue of the city tax funds or budget, which sum is to be earmarked for use by the Advertising Committee of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce to be spent for advertising the resort facilities of the City of Virginia Beach for the year 1953.

"And be it further resolved, that a new advertising committee be appointed to be composed of 11 members to be selected and agreed upon by the Mayor and the President of the Chamber of Commerce and that (Continued on Page Three)

Sen. Etheridge Requests ABC Hearing be Held Here

ASKS TO APPEAR AT RICHMOND HEARING, WHERE FORMAL BID FOR BEACH MEET WILL BE MADE

State Senator V. Alfred Etheridge announced Wednesday that he had written a letter to the secretary to the committee charged with the study of the present Virginia Alcoholic Beverage Control law requesting to appear before the committee at Richmond on March 27.

Senator Etheridge's letter was addressed to John Beutright, who is serving as secretary to the special committee that is making a study of the ABC Board.

In an interview, the Senator told the Sun-News that he would request the committee to hold a public hearing in Virginia Beach on that persons may be heard for or against changes in the present beverage control law.

The whole ABC question has been widely discussed throughout the state and expressions for retention of the present setup and expressions looking toward a change to a more liberal law have been heard.

It is felt that a public hearing at Virginia Beach would give tourists interested here an opportunity to express their views to the committee and might possibly give the committee members a full understanding of the wishes and desires of the citizens located here.

Elderidge stated that he expected to appear before the group on March 27 and was confident that his request would be granted. "I want the committee to know the desires of citizens of the district that I represent," he said.

Thursday, April 16, has been designated as "Ozlin Day" in Princess Anne County in recognition of the completion of 35 years of service to the county by County Agent Herbert Warren Ozlin.

Elaborate plans are being formulated to celebrate the veteran's long term of service to the farmers of the county, according to John Hart, assistant county agent.

Dr. John R. Hutcheson, chancellor of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, has accepted the county's invitation to be the principal speaker, Hart said.

The celebration will bring together former associates of Ozlin and agricultural leaders throughout Virginia, as well as 4-H "alumni," farmers and friends of the county.

Ozlin's term of service is believed to be the longest continuous in the same county of any farm agent since the Agricultural Extension Service was established in Virginia.

Plans Laid For Religious Survey

All churches of both Princess Anne County and the City of Virginia Beach are being asked to participate in a county-wide religious survey to be conducted by the future at a date to be announced.

Area chairmen are being chosen for the survey and an executive committee comprising Dr. W. George Bond, Mrs. J. A. Collins, the Rev. Nicholas Habet, the Rev. Robert P. Church, the Rev. William N. Ranney and the Rev. Beverly Tucker, will direct the survey.

This committee met last week with the Rev. William Richardson, president of the County Ministerial Association, to formulate preliminary plans and organization for the religious census, deemed of great value in aiding and correlating the work of the pastors of this area.

City Council Passes Resolution Favoring Willoughby Entrance

BRIDGE-TUNNEL ENTRY ON ROUTE 60 SEEN ESSENTIAL BY CITY FATHERS; CHAMBER PASSES LIKE MEASURE

The Virginia Beach City Council, taking cognizance of the importance of the proposed bridge-tunnel project between Norfolk and the peninsula, passed a resolution at a recent meeting urging that such construction be accomplished and that the Willoughby routing be adopted.

City Council's action came at a time when a movement in Norfolk to have the tunnel project routed through 34th Street was abandoned. Norfolk interest had proposed such a routing but dropped the proposal when it was learned that it would greatly increase the cost of the project and would delay start of the work more than a year.

Text of the resolution as adopted by the Virginia Beach City Council follows:

"Whereas the State Highway Commission of Virginia is contemplating the construction of a connecting bridge and tunnel between the City of Norfolk and the peninsula, and

"Whereas, the location of the said bridge and tunnel is now under consideration of the said Commission, and

"Whereas, the erection of the said bridge and tunnel is of great importance to the City of Virginia Beach in making it possible for the visitors to Virginia Beach to reach it with the least possible effort, and

"Whereas, Virginia Beach is the only resort on the Atlantic Ocean in the State of Virginia, and should be given due consideration in the location of the said bridge and tunnel; That the Council of the City of Virginia Beach do hereby go on record as endorsing and advocating the route of the said bridge and tunnel so that the Eastern Terminus of the bridge will be at Willoughby Beach in the City of Norfolk, Virginia.

"Be it resolved that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to General James A. Anderson, State Highway Commission, and a copy of the same be spread upon the minute books of the City."

For The Pie Wise PIE OF THE MONTH

By BETTY BARCLAY

High, wide and fancy free—That's the way you want Lemon Meringue Pie to be. And you can make it just that way when you use this lemon pudding and pie filling mix. Just add sugar, water and the yolks of 2 eggs to the filling mix—the whites go to make the fluffy meringue. Note, too, that the filling takes only about five minutes to cook—just time enough to bring it to a full boil. Cool for five minutes and singo—it's ready for a baked pie shell.

Here you have Lemon Meringue Pie at its best—the kind that's tops on America's Hit Parade of Pies.

Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add 4 tablespoons sugar. 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is blended. Then continue beating until meringue will stand in peaks. Pile lightly on pie filling. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 5 to 10 minutes, well. Then add remaining 1½ cups water. Cook and stir until mixture is browned.

Local Bank 'Buys' Block of Beauty

The Bank of Virginia Beach this week purchased a block of the North Atlantic Avenue beautification project, thereby reducing the amount needed to complete this project to approximately $1,750,000.

The name, "Bank of Virginia Beach," will be placed on the permanent markers to be placed at each end of the project, along with each organization or individual contributing an amount of $100 or more.

Individual contributions are continuing to come in, sponsors of the project said yesterday, and reminded those who wish to give to mail their contribution to P.O. Box 33, Virginia Beach. Each contributor's name will be placed on permanent files in the Court House of Princess Anne County.

Planting at the south end of this strip is under way at the present time, using shrubs and trees which have been donated by the Mises Hill of Sea Breeze Farm. Sufficient planting for one block has been given by the Mises Hill from their property in Princess Anne County.

Mrs. Gilmore Tillbrook, president of the Council of Garden Clubs, the sponsoring organization, said the response to this project had been most gratifying. "It has been a long road, but the end is now in sight," she declared, "and we are most appreciative of the wonderful cooperation we are receiving from the people of Princess Anne."

A problem of hiring a full time teacher or teachers to do the job. He stated that 1,250,000 high school students have taken the course in the nation but explained that the figure is only a small beginning, since there are 2,000,000 youngsters who become of driving age each year.

In his discussion, Elliott gave high praise to automobile dealers who assist in the program by lending an automobile to the high schools for the actual driving practice.

Following the discussion, Elliott showed a film, produced by the American Automobile Association, which presents the problem of teen-agers who become involved with the law through improper driving. Entitled "Borrowed Power," the film covers the story of a high school boy who felt that he could learn to drive "on his own," rather than through the high school course. Much to the distress of himself and his parents, the youngster found himself in juvenile court on a charge of manslaughter.

Netherlands Aid Gifts Accepted

Mrs. Pearl Mallory, executive secretary of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County Chapter, American Red Cross, announced early this week that the local chapter has been authorized to accept voluntary money contributions for operations in flood disaster stricken countries of Europe, notably the Netherlands. Gifts can be turned in at Red Cross headquarters in the Community House, 18th and Arctic Avenue.

Mrs. Mallory also is collecting copies of this month's edition of Reader's Digest containing the condensation of W. L. White's book, "Back Down the Ridge." This is a poignant account of the war wounded in Korea, the story of the vital need of blood to keep men alive. Under her direction the books are to be distributed in public places in hopes that local residents will realize the need for blood and register for the next blood donor day, now scheduled for March 27.

tion in urging the construction of the proposed bridge-tunnel project via Willoughby to go along with earlier action taken by the Virginia Beach City Council.

The Chamber made their proposal in the form of a letter addressed to General James A. Anderson, head of the State Department of Highways. In the letter, the Chamber went on record as favoring the Willoughby routing of the bridge-tunnel.

There had been speculation on a routing that would place a terminal at 16th Street in Norfolk. The action of the two Beach bodies was to prevent any attempt to change the approved Willoughby entrance.

Local Methodists Holding Unique Evening Services

This Sunday evening the Virginia Beach Methodist Church inaugurated a new program designed to reach a larger number of people, and to provide a more interesting and effective service of instruction and inspiration.

"This program," states the pastor, the Rev. Graham S. Carlton, "I believe will have an appeal to a much larger number of our members than the usual preaching service." A feature of this new service, according to Mr. Carlton, will be a panel discussion on "Making Our Home Christian." This will be led by Harold B. Kellam. Members of the panel will be: C. Hall Sellings, Mrs. Charles H. Rand, H. Walton White and Mrs. Aubrey N. Holmes. For this Sunday evening's worship period there will be a visual sermon. The film title is "Honor Thy Family."

During the 30 minute panel discussion a story hour will be conducted for the young children by Mrs. Earl Duvall.

The schedule for the entire evening is as follows:

Informal hymn service: 6:30 to 7 o'clock.
Supper hour, no charges or collection. 7:00 to 7:30.
Panel discussion: 7:30 to 8:00.

More Juveniles See Inside of Jail

Over 2,500 children were held in Virginia jails during the past year, an increase of 18% over 1951. The State Department of Welfare and Institutions reported recently. It was the largest number of children held in jail in the state since 1948. That year, 2,655 youths between 8 and 17 years old saw the inside of a jail.

Despite this increase, however, the number is well below the 1944 peak of 4,300 children, the department declared.

Most of these children were 16 or over, with the greatest number being 17 years old. Persons 18 and older are treated as adult offenders by the courts.

The children, said the department, were held in Virginia jails while awaiting a hearing before the juvenile court or trial justice. Of the total, 407 were 14 years old or under, and 97 were 12 years or under.

Detailed records of these held in October 1952, shows that most of the youngsters were held for only one day while they awaited a hearing before the judge. The longest stay during the month was 22 days, and the average for October was less than that.

Charges on which the children were held ranged from burglary to refusing to attend school, while a large number of them were held for reasons other than committing an offense against the law. Runaways, neglected children, and those having no place to stay were sometimes held in jail for short periods.

Many were listed by jailers as "delinquents," on the reports. Officials of the State Welfare Department pointed out that Virginia law does not recognize children as "delinquents," but such children are defined as those "coming within the purview of the law."

Alderman Takes Training Course

Dr. William Y. Garrett, director of the Virginia Beach Health Department, announced yesterday that Ernest H. Alderman, city sanitation, has returned to duty after having completed a nine weeks special sanitation training course.

The training courses are being sponsored by the Virginia State Health Department, and held in the Orange County Health Center, Orange, Va. They are considered necessary in order to better equip the sanitation personnel to cope with the growing community demands in public health sanitation. Furthermore, these courses are essential in order to render the best possible service to the people, Dr. Garrett said.

The course opened with several days devoted to studying the background of sanitation, and followed with intensive study of the various aspects of the sanitation job. During this phase the students went out to county health departments and actually observed and performed work in the various phases.

Such sanitation subjects as water supply, food and milk control, tourist lodging, schools, summer camps and other recreational facilities, and insect and rodent control, were the subject of intensive study.

Virginia Artists To Participate in Art Competition

More than 1,200 Virginia artists have been invited to participate in the "Fortieth Exhibition of Virginia Artists" to be held at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts opening May 1 and continuing through June 2. Laile Cheek, Jr., director, has announced.

The competition is open to all artists born in Virginia, now living in Virginia (including the Armed Forces), or who have formerly resided in Virginia for a period of at least five years. Entry forms are available from the Museum for all artists in these categories whether or not they are included on the Museum's mailing list, it was pointed out.

Eligible entries are original paintings, sculpture in any medium, all types of graphic arts, personally designed crafts in metal, textile, wood and pottery which have been completed since March, 1951, and not previously exhibited at the Virginia Museum, according to museum officials.

Not more than three entries may be made by any one artist. The jury, composed of Gordon B. Wishburn, director, Carnegie Institute; Edward Hopper, painter; and Jacques Lipchitz, sculptor, will have complete discretion as to which works and the number of those which submitted may be properly included in the exhibition. The decisions of the jury will be final in all cases.

Entry blanks should be mailed no later than February 27, and March 6 is the last day that works may be presented, it was noted. Members of the Virginia Museum may enter their works free of charge. Non-members are required to enclose a fee of $2 with their entry blank.

Inasmuch as the Virginia Museum is a state-wide visual arts system, the members of the jury will select objects from the exhibition to form three traveling displays for showings at other museums, schools, colleges and clubs in Virginia during the next two years.

Junior Women Hear Frederic Lowe on World Relations

The Junior Women's Club of Princess Anne County had their February meeting at the American Legion Club on Tuesday night of this week. Mrs. J. I. Stole was in charge of the program and had as her guest speaker Frederic Lowe of the Norfolk Newspapers. Mr. Lowe spoke on "World Relations." He introduced to the club Mr. Khalid El Izzi from Baghdad, who spoke about the situation in the Arabian countries and Palestine and the home life in his native country.

Following the talks, refreshments were served.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"Brother! Well! You see what they unloaded on her today!"

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Just a Little "Outdated"

Back in December we sent out our yearly calendar. It listed the last date for renewing drivers' licenses, and things like the dates for registering, to vote, when the hunting and fishing seasons open—even suggested you note down the wife's birthday, too.

I figured dates like these were important to keep in mind—and this was a good way to do it. Unfortunately, it now turns out I never really paid close attention to my own calendar!

Not till today that is—so here I am not able to drive the car this weekend until I get my driver's license renewed on Monday!

From where I sit, I guess good advice, like charity, should begin at home. I'm always advising all of you to worry less about your neighbors (what they do, or say, and whether or not they should enjoy a temperate glass of beer) and pay more attention to whether you yourself are doing the right thing. Guess I'll "make a note" to follow my own formula!

Still Time For Topdressing Pastures--Ozlin

Topdressing pastures now will aid in assuring adequate grazing for livestock this summer, says John Shoulters, associate agronomist at VPI. He declares the time to topdress is before growth starts.

To get maximum results from topdressing, the lime requirement should be met. If the soil in the pasture field tests below a pH of 6.0, lime is needed.

Generally, all grass-ladino clover or tall grass-alfalfa-ladino clover pastures should receive a topdressing of from 500 to 800 pounds per acre of 0-14-14 or 2-12-12 fertilizer per acre. Native pastures such as blue grass-bile clover can be maintained satisfactorily in the "m" cases by topdressing every 3 to 4 years with 1,000 to 1,200 pounds of 0-14-14, 0-14-7 or 5-10-10.

However, in Eastern Virginia, says H. W. Ozlin, County Agent, it may be desirable to topdress native pastures each year.

One to two weeks earlier grazing can usually be obtained by applying 20 to 40 pounds of nitrogen per acre in the early spring before growth starts, in addition to the regular topdressing. There will usually be more response to nitrogen on grassy soils where legumes are disappearing from the mixture.

Livestock producers must plan for economical gains, says Mr. Ozlin, and adds there is no cheaper way than by the use of good pastures.

Assembly Study Commission to Meet In Norfolk on 27th

The Virginia General Assembly's Commission studying training needs of the handicapped announced this week a series of four public hearings in Alexandria, Richmond, Norfolk and Staunton.

The Commission, which is endeavoring to determine how citizens suffering physical or mental disabilities may be trained by special education, invites all interested persons to attend the hearings and present information which may be helpful in its report to the 1954 General Assembly.

The meeting in Norfolk will be held at the Navy YMCA, 130 Brooke Avenue, at 10 a. m. tomorrow (Friday).

RURAL POPULATION

Urban families outnumber rural families in the U.S. two to one. Of the 29 million families recorded in 1950, 13 million were rural.

Of farm families, more than four-fifths were in the South and North Central regions. These also contained two-thirds of the nation's rural nonfarm families.

While about 14 per cent of U.S. families were rural farm families, they made up 24 per cent of all families in the South, 16 per cent in the North Central states, only 10 per cent of all the families in the West and 5 per cent in the Northeast.

Gardeners should make sure that seed dealers have materials available in time to furnish their soils next spring, Penné says.

County's Soybean Growers Urged to Join Competition

The Soybean Committee of the County Board of Agriculture, composed of J. G. Petree, J. B. Dudley, Earl M. Fehault and John T. Miller, held a meeting last week for the purpose of approving rules and regulations governing the Soybean Growers Club in Princess Anne County for 1953. M. P. Lucy, associate Extension agronomist from VPI, H. W. Ozlin, county agent, and John Hart, assistant county agent, met with the committee.

The committee decided that all soybean producers in Princess Anne County are eligible for membership in the club and would be invited to participate. A membership of one hundred was set as a goal for the 1953 club.

Soybeans in the contest must be planted on one entire field and the committee suggested that the field be large enough to harvest one or more truck loads of beans. The purpose of this suggestion is to enable the member to take the beans from their demonstration to market without having to go with a piece of load.

The committee set $3.00 as dues for the members to pay into the club and this money will be used either for prizes to the members who grow the largest number of bushels per acre or to provide a banquet for the members at the close of the contest.

All soybean growers in the county are urged to take part and enroll in this club and while membership will be accepted up until June 1, 1953, the committee urges that they join immediately so that the Extension personnel will be able to take soil samples on the field from which the beans will be grown and to make proper recommendations for increased yields. Therefore, all of the members are urged to select their fields at once and to send in their membership without delay.

After the fields have been selected the committee will not allow any winnowing, unless made before August 15th, and also providing that the alternate field has been fertilized the same as the first field selected.

In order to compete for the prizes to be offered all members must keep cost account of seed, fertilizer, lime, cover crop, preparing land, planting, cultivating, harvesting, and hauling. Cost account blanks for this purpose will be provided by the county agent's office.

Acres in the demonstration field will be determined at the beginning of the contest and the yield of beans harvested will be determined by the weight, as indicated on the scale weight, according, which must be furnished as evidence.

The Soybean Committee believes that great improvement can be made in the production of soybeans in the county and if the growers will become interested in this club, all will gain economically.

Demoneers to Take on One of 'Hottest' Sextets

The local State Champion Demoneers Girls' basketball team will entertain what is thought to be the "hottest" team in the state when they take on Glen Jordan of Richmond, Saturday night in the High School gymnasium, in the second game of a double-header.

The Glen Jordan team is the team that the local sextette eliminated by a single point, 35-34, in last year's state tourney and the visitors have all of their big punts back for another try at the Demoneers. They also expect to participate in the State Tournament which is to be held at Virginia Beach March 6-7, and this tilt should give a good idea of what to expect in the tournament.

The Snow White girls received what may be good news the past week when Jean Holloman, last year's high scoring forward, asked permission to rejoin the team in time for the state meet. Holloman has been out all season due to an addition to her family and it remains to be seen just how fast she can round into shape for the coming tournament, but she could make a big difference, in the opinion of the team. Glen Jordan will be led Saturday night by Wilke and Call, two fast forwards, and Polly Russell, for a long time one of the state's best. Coach John Tucker will rely on Ann Thompson, Pat Bilbo and Beverly Malton to lead his team in scoring, while Betty Smith, Martha Stallings, Doris Etheridge and Frances Hill hold down the opposition. It should be a nip and tuck affair, according to past performances of both teams. In a preliminary game the Nimmo Church quint composed of local boys, will entertain the First Baptist live in a game starting at 7:15. The Nimmo sound is made up of Clay Perry, Al Craft, Jr., Bruce Jones, Andy Phillips, Sonny and Kit

Malton, Monk Midgett, Charlie Kiley and Sonny Rose. The First Baptist aggregation won the first half in the Norfolk Church League and Nimmo is in a tie for the second half leadership with Burrows Baptist. ROBERT KUNKLER RETURNS FROM BAND SCHOOL. Robert Kunkler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Kunkler, of 27th Street, has returned from attending a three day session of the Eastern District All State Band School at Warwick. The chemical industry, it is estimated, will have to increase today's output by 3.5 times in order to meet demand in the coming quarter-century.

EASY DOES IT

Sewing Tips

To prevent puckering of seams when sewing with nylon, cut on bias or curve whenever possible. Use a small sharp sewing machine needle, loosen machine tensions, use about 15 stitches per inch. Paste a piece of brown gummed paper over needle hole in throat plate of sewing machine. Use nylon thread. Double stitched seams are suggested, one at the regular seam line and another about one-fourth inch into the seam allowance. For very sheer blouses, use French seams.

No pins or pressing are allowed when sewing with plastics.

Countians Enter State Ewe Contest

W. D. McNeil, Lee county farmer, has been named the winner of the 1952, "return-per-ewe" contest - a program sponsored by the Virginia Purebred Sheep Breeders Association and the VPI Agricultural Extension Service to encourage profitable sheep breeding in the state.

McNeil reported an average return of $47.23 each on 21 ewes and a 133 percent lamb crop. He received a $35 prize.

Second prize of $20 goes to G. D. Kite, of Culpeper, who reported an average of $43.13 each on 34 ewes. Third prize of $10 goes to W. B. Claggett, Clarke, with an average of $39.91 on 55 ewes.

Winners of $5 prizes are: W. H. Starkey, Roanoke; Dean G. Shuler, Wytheville; W. C. Walker, Rockingham; H. Preston Caldwell, Grule; Paul L. Swecker, Shenandoah; Mrs. M. L. Goad and David Shenandoah; and Samuel F. Richard, Shenandoah.

The formula for McNeil's success with sheep as seen by the assistant Lee County Agent, George A. Lee - "good breeding, excellent management, and top quality pasture even when there is snow on the ground."

McNeil himself says, "We think our success with sheep is due to our feeding and pasture program. We have 33 acres of ladino-orchard grass we use with the sheep and about 25 head of cattle, rotating the sheep from one field to another about once a month. About the first of July we turn them into a new field with the ram."

"The ewes are turned on rye pasture as soon as the grass is gone and stay out until the first lamb drops. Then we put them in the barn every night, feeding about 1/2 bushel of crushed corn each morning and night. I also put a box of free-choice minerals in the barn."

"By the time to take them off the rye, the ladino-orchard grass is good and I put them on it. This gets them to market early at a good size and that is where the profit is in the lambs."

George Waller and Earl M. Tebbitt both of Route 2, Hickory Blackwater District, have entered the "return-per-ewe" contest this year. And both of these farmers have a very nice flock of ewes,

Cavalier Girls Win
County Play-offs

The Cavalier lassies, coached by Miss JoAnn Sterling, defeated the Kempsville sextette on Friday night, January 30, for the County Championship. It was a thrilling game to the finish, final score being 37-32. Oceana's regular power house, Scarborough, Vukos and Wilson, for wards, and Kernan and Russell as guards, played the entire game.

Charlotte Scarborough was high scorer with 16 points and Vukos was close behind with 15.

On the night of February 10, the same sextette won their 12th straight game when they took the Smithfield Packers by a close 30-27 score. Six of their 12 games were conference. Scarborough was again high scorer with 14 points. Vukos and Wilson also played a wonderful offensive game.

The starting guards, McCubbin, Kernan and Russell, played an excellent game, holding the Packers to 27 points.

The "11" just caught up with the girls last Friday night, however, and their 13th game, on the 13th of the month, ended with Churchland taking the long end of a 42 to 37 score.

SUPERVISORS ASK BONDS FOR NORTH END WATER

DIRE NEED FOR ADDED MAINS SPURS BOARD; TRAILER CAMP ORDINANCE PASSED; CONTRACTS RENEWED

Improved water service in North Virginia Beach will become a reality this summer if plans begun at the meeting of the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors Monday materialize.

Acting on a request made by its executive director, V. Alfred Etheridge, the county board passed a resolution asking the Circuit Court to set a date for a special referendum on a bond issue for the North Virginia Beach Sanitation District, not to exceed $350,000.

Etheridge made the request for the commission, which was appointed several years ago for the purpose of looking into and improving the inadequate water supply north of the resort.

The commission plans, Etheridge said, to lay a new 12-inch main from the intersection of Larkin Road and Virginia Beach Boulevard to the City's pumping station in Cavalier Shores.

Water mains from there to Fort Story will be increased in size so the work will cost in the neighborhood of $350,000.

It was pointed out at the meeting of the county's governing body that the Army has denied use of its line this year. Last summer, pleading that an emergency existed, county authorities were permitted to tap the Army's main leading to Fort Story and while not wholly remedied, the acute shortage was alleviated.

"The Army now says that an emergency no longer exists," Etheridge told the county board. "They say that we had notice of the condition 12 months ago and that some action should have been taken to remedy the problem."

Reid W. Diggs, president of the commission, also appeared at the meeting, and stressed that time is a vital factor.

"Even if we could start the necessary legal steps tomorrow," he said, "it would be June before any improvement could be made."

Etheridge was appointed by the county board last month to meet with city authorities and main permission which must be had before the construction can start.

He reported that the city's answer is being held up awaiting an answer from their attorney, and that he was presenting the matter this month in an effort to expedite the work should approval be granted.

The sanitation district, which comprises that area north of the city's northern boundary, and bounded by Raleigh's Cut, Larkins Road and Seashore State Park on the west, Fort Story on the north and the Atlantic Ocean on the east, will be directed by the commission appointed by the Board of Supervisors. C. A. Mowry is the chairman.

If the bond issue is approved by a vote of the residents of that area, special taxes will be levied on property there to defray the cost of installing the new water mains.

Trailer Camp Ordinance

In other action, the county board passed on first reading a new ordinance regulating the location, size and character of trailer camps.

This new ordinance ups the license taxes on such installations and sets out other restrictions as defined in a copy of the ordinance which will be published under the "Legal Notices" of this paper.

Subdivision Ordinance Amended

The county's governing body also tentatively approved an amendment to its recently adopted subdivision control ordinance. This new measure makes it necessary for subdividers to have percolation tests made on the soil of the proposed subdivision to make certain that septic tanks will operate properly.

Fire Protection

County authorities also approved a new contract with the City of Virginia Beach for fire protection in North Virginia Beach, North Larkins Park, Bay Colony and other Shores.

NEW SCHOOL IS PROPOSED IN NO. BEACH

A site in state park asked; buy lot for little creek

An elementary school in North Virginia Beach is being studied by the Princess Anne County School Board, and may become a reality pending the outcome of the County vs. Virginia Beach annexation hearing in June.

Speaking informally to the county Board of Supervisors Monday on long-range school plans, Frank W. Cox, division superintendent of the county schools, disclosed that an elementary school may be undertaken in North Virginia Beach if the county is successful in retaining the territory now being sought by the City of Virginia Beach.

A request has already been made to the state, asking for a site in Seashore State Park, Cox disclosed.

He told members of the board that the school may be built with the same plans that are now being drawn for a proposed elementary school in the Little Creek-East Ocean View area.

Cox purpose before the board was to secure permission to acquire a 12-acre site on Little Creek Road for this proposed school.

He indicated that the school board will ask the county supervisors to request the Circuit Court to set a date for a $500,000 bond issue referendum for Kempville Magisterial District. The funds from such an issue would be used for the construction of the school.

The head of the county's school system, pointing out the need for the new facility, said the 1,100-pupil capacity of the Bowdoin elementary school had been reached and officials are now faced with starting a shift system in the lower grades.

The proposed facility, which will afford 18 classrooms, Cox said, would take care of pupils from East Ocean View and the 600-home project now being constructed on the Lewis Farm.

In commenting on the need for the bond issue, Cox pointed out that should Congress reauthorize Public Law 815, which provides for Federal funds to localities having a heavy influx of students because of governmental activity, the county would be entitled to some $500,000 to $600,000.

If received, these sums would be used for the proposed new school, he said. The area to be served by the new school, Cox declared, is where the greatest influx has been experienced.

The board granted the school board permission to acquire the site. The new plant is not expected to be completed until September, 1954.

'Save Your Vision' Week March 1-7

The 27th annual "Save Your Vision Week" will be observed March 1-7, according to Dr. J. R. Bell, president of the Virginia Optometric Association, which will sponsor the observance in Virginia.

In many talks, scheduled by optometrists before civic groups, during the week, emphasis will be placed on the prevention of eye-sight problems. Dr. Bell stated, and patients during the week will be offered literature on the means of conserving and improving vision.

A formal proclamation, designating next week as "Save Your Vision Week," was signed by Mayor P. F. Murray this week. It reads:

Approximately 120 ladies attended the World Day of Prayer held last Friday at the First Baptist Church here. The event was sponsored by the Princess Anne County Council of the Church Women.

J. Peter Holland, III, Named Beach's 'First Citizen' for '52

FIRST CITIZEN

J. Peter Holland, III, above, has been named Virginia Beach's First Citizen for 1952 by the awards committee of the Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The father of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County Rescue Squad, J. Peter Holland, III, has been named as Virginia Beach's first citizen for 1952.

He will be honored at a First Citizen's Award Banquet, which the sponsoring organization, the Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce, will hold at the Paramount Restaurant March 10 at 7 o'clock.

An attorney, the 31-year-old Marine Corps aviator, was chosen for his outstanding contribution to the welfare of the community in conceiving and being instrumental in the formation and operation of the Rescue Squad.

This organization, formed in January a year ago, began operations in May with 18 members. Since that time it has made 495 mercy missions in the county and at the resort and now has 33 members and two ambulances, a crash wagon, and a boat and trailer well valued at near ten thousand dollars. It maintains a round-the-clock rescue service with its volunteer members.

Holland, who is married to the former Peggy Steel of Petersburg, and is the father of a son and daughter, has also been active in Jaycee work. He has been a member of the local club since the first year of its inception.

In addition he is a vestryman at the Galilee Episcopal Church and is a member of the Religious Breakfast Club. He is one of four people at the resort holding "Gallon Blood Donor" pins, and serves on the troop committee of the Virginia Beach Boy Scouts and on the County Planning Commission.

The youngest "first citizen" ever chosen, Holland succeeds James G. Kontopoulos, operator of the Normandie Restaurant, who was accorded the initial honor, and E. B. Bayne, chief of the Fire Department, who was chosen for 1951.

Bridge-Tunnel Plan Discussion At Ocean View

Persons interested in planning for the proposed bridge-tunnel from Wilcox to Old Point have been invited to attend a special luncheon meeting to be held at the Nanamond Hotel in Ocean View next Thursday, March 5.

The luncheon meeting is being sponsored by a group known as the Ocean View Recreation Area Businessmen and Associates.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss plans necessary for the project and its effect on the area to be served. Projected problems will be discussed and a movie designed for the meeting will be shown.

James Augustine is temporary chairman of the business group sponsoring the program.

Farm Bureau Seeks Members

The board of directors and membership committee of the Princess Anne County Farm Bureau met recently at Hurd's to work out final arrangements for conducting the annual drive for new members in the organization, set for March 3 this year throughout the state of Virginia, according to J. S. Ives, president of the county organization.

The committee will work out the details of conducting the drive and will enlist the aid of other Farm Bureau members in the county to carry out the plans.

President Ives said that the county made its state quota of new members last year and that "all of us think we can top our quota this year. We in the Farm Bureau think that if we can do a much better job together than we can alone, each pulling in a different direction. I think this is the best $10 I spend each year and I'm glad to recommend the organization to other farmers in the county."

ADVERTISING AND BOND ISSUES PASS COUNCIL

CIRCUIT COURT BEING ASKED TO SET REFERENDUM DATE; COMMITTEE TO HANDLE AD PROGRAM

The Virginia Beach City Council last night made two significant accomplishments as its City Council vs. J. Wilcox Dunn meeting in the council chamber.

It passed on first reading ordinances requesting the Circuit Court to set a date for a special referendum on bond issues for $500,000 and $300,000 respectively.

It also settled the two-month-old Chamber of Commerce controversy on who shall spend the resort's advertising funds.

To each of these, as well as several other minor matters, Dunn expressed considerable disagreement.

The ordinances calling for the special referendum on the bond issues superseded similar ordinances which were adopted at the last session of the body, which authorized the issuance of the bonds. The change in the procedure, Mayor P. F. Murray told the council, was at the recommendation of bonding attorneys and was done for the purpose of improving the stability of the bonds and making the interest rate more favorable.

Dunn objected to the council's action, calling the appropriation for advertising a "controversial" issue, and asked that the issue be split to give the people of the resort a voice in the installation of the jettes.

The $300,000 issue, for sewer lines and two pumping stations in the southwest section of the city, proved without incident.

To settle the dispute as to who will handle advertising funds, the council adopted an ordinance calling for the appointment of an 11-member committee to be known as the "Advertising Committee of the City of Virginia Beach."

"This committee," to quote the ordinance, "to function with and be a branch of the Chamber of Commerce and shall cooperate in every way possible . . . for advertising, publicizing and for the general welfare and betterment of all the citizens."

Membership of the committee is to be made up of five members selected by the Mayor of the City of Virginia Beach, five selected by the Chamber of Commerce, and an 11th member selected by the committee.

Payment of bills incurred by the committee is to be made by the City and the ordinance further stipulates that the Chamber's president shall name his five members, with the Chamber of Commerce, and an 11th member instructed to expand the committee to its full strength.

Councilman W. W. McClannan, Jr., terming the adoption of the ordinance a "death blow to the Chamber of Commerce," was the only member dissenting when the issue was brought to a vote.

A $4,000 appropriation for beautification of the North portion of Virginia Beach from 42nd to 49th streets, which was scheduled to receive final approval at last night's meeting, was tabled after Dunn raised an objection to special tax funds being used for that purpose.

Two committees were appointed by the Mayor and Mrs. Rosaleen F. Simpson, superintendent of the Princess Anne County Welfare Department, was appointed to the same position for the city.

The committees were appointed for the purpose of meeting with plan officials to discuss improvements the city wants at this facility and to review city licenses looking to the elimination of inequalities.

City Manager Philip W. Ancell explained that the appointment of Mrs. Simpson was a legal technicality needed for the handling of the plan.

Blood Program Nets 47 Pints

The national blood program received a net 47 pints of blood from Virginia Beach for the month of January, analysis of records at the headquarters of the local chapter of the American Red Cross reveals.

During that month, 69 pints were given by donors from the city, and 22 pints were administered to residents of the local area. The blood given is primarily for Korean use, but as has always been the policy of the agency, home needs are also taken care of, and in accordance with established policy, no charge is ever made for the blood received locally, except by the attending medical authorities for administration.

At last week's collection at Little Creek Navy Amphibious Base, 213 pints were collected. Mrs. D. B. Hill of the Ocean Park Women's Club was in charge of the volunteer workers at the Base, and had thirteen assistants.

It will pay the city $50 for each fire call made in the area of an hour's duration, and $50 for each additional hour or fractional part of an hour.

It also calls for the payment of a $100 rental per year on each of the 30 fire hydrants located in the areas.

Of the 60 million acres of land in England, Scotland, Northern Ireland and Wales, 48 million are used in agriculture.

Top Basketball Teams of State Here March 6-7

Several of the state's best girls' amateur basketball teams will be playing in the State AAU Women's Basketball Tournament when the competition gets under way in the High School gymnasium at Virginia Beach March 6th.

This year the State Champion Snow White Demoneers will be the host team in the tournament sponsored by the Virginia Beach Sports Club.

The local sextette has an 18-5 record for the season, three of the losses coming from Hazen Huxley, national champions, and the American Institute of Commerce, national runners-up last year. The laundry list will be out to keep the crown at Virginia Beach, but expect strong competition from several of the visiting teams.

Willard Ashburn, Jr., serving as chairman for the Sports Club, has mailed out thirteen invitations to the strongest teams in the state and already interest has been evidenced by the following aggregations:

Dan River of Danville, O'Donnell's of Arlington, Falls Church, last year's consolation winner; Killingers of Roanoke, 1949 champion and '50 runner-up; the Shamrocks of Portsmouth, Naval Base Waves, Glein Jordan, McGuire Hospital, R.P.T. — all of Richmond — and the Norfolk Southern team, runners-up this year to the Demoneers in the Norfolk League.

Tournament games will be played Friday and Saturday, March 6 and 7, both afternoon and night.

Some beautiful Valentine bouquets were brought. Most of them were of carnations. Mrs. Robert Baldwin's centerpiece arrangement and Mrs. A. S. Rosenkran's Valentine nosegay took top honors.

Mrs. Herman Beams and Mrs. Herbert Keimling were judges for these.

Mrs. Furman Dey of Broad Bay Farms was a guest.

Principal Johnson presided at the meeting and told how many instruments had been purchased by the school and predicted what would be needed in finance and cooperation to perfect a hundred-piece band, fully equipped and uniformed.

Representatives from several instrument companies were present and explained their rental and sales programs.

A representative group of majorities entertained with the band. Organization of the Band Parents Club took place, with the following officers being elected:

The window displays were judged by the Activities Committee of the Tidewater Council District who in turn had their displays judged by a committee from Princess Anne District.

TIDEWATER COUNCIL PLAN CAMP IMPROVEMENTS

On Saturday, February 14th, Tidewater Council held a meeting at the Scout Cabin of Troop 62 of Oceana at which Horace Coleman, Jr., Council Chairman for Short Term Camping, presided.

This group of Scouters from all districts of the Council assembled to plan improvement in the status of Short Term Camping. They discussed ways and means of providing Leaders and Committees with Camping "know-how" to groups in each District who in turn would provide the necessary training for District Camporees and Troop Over-night Camps.

This group of professional and experienced Scouters have now set up the following training schedule:

February 28-March 1 an over-night Camp-out near Deep Creek to train District trainers.

March 21-22 The Princess Anne District Scouters will hold an over-night camp-out to train Unit Leaders in the district.

April 18-19 The District Leaders will hold an over-night camp-out to train the Patrol Leaders and other Junior Leaders (Green Bar) thus passing on the skills and methods learned by the boys.

Tax Judgments

$3,875.14, plus penalties amounting to $193.76 for miscellaneous taxes were entered against Charles and James Fox, trading as the Piney Point Boat Club Association.

The next year the same defendants were named in a judgment for $796.45, plus $39.82 in penalties. Also in 1952 James and his wife, Lorraine, were named as defendants in two judgments entered for 1950 and 1951 income taxes. These amounted to $3,346.59 and $2,275.59 respectively.

One day before the record judgment was entered another judgment was entered against James and Charles Fox, under their trading name, which amounted to $917.86 in unpaid taxes and $45.89 in penalties.

The New Surf, Inc., of which James Fox is one of the owners, was also named in a judgment entered this year for non-payment of $518.96 in taxes and $25.95 in penalties. The New Surf, Inc., is the former Surf Beach Club.

Occupational vision, pointing out that different jobs have entirely different visual requirements, and that each worker should be properly fitted for his work—and his recreation, includes the problem of television and eyesight, recreations such as golfing, sun bathing and the like.

WELL-MERITED HONORS

The Sun-News joins the citizenry of Virginia Beach in congratulating the Junior Chamber of Commerce on their excellent judgment in naming J. Edgar Smith, Jr., "First Citizen" of the resort for the year 1952, and Mr. Holland for the fine record he has made in meriting the honor.

It has been well said that all worth-while men are busy men, and by this standard alone Mr. Holland is a stand-out citizen. The father of two children, this ex-Marine who is a busy practicing attorney, has found time to serve as a vestryman in his church, be an active member of other religious groups, maintain an active part in the local Boy Scout movement, serve on the important County Planning Commission and otherwise manifest a deep sense of civic responsibility. This civic responsibility is perhaps best epitomized by the fact that he is the proud wearer of a "Gallon" pin, for his donations of blood to the local blood bank.

Yet with all these accomplishments, one other thing, in itself sufficient to merit the award now being bestowed, stands out as a magnificent community service. For it was this same Mr. Holland who conceived, worked for and was one of the prime organizers of the Rescue Squad in the Beach and county. What this volunteer group can do, and what it has done since its inception, can best be understood only by those who have been in need of, and received its aid in time of stress and need.

This group's fine record is short through with the fine spirit of the new "first citizens" work and foresight. Its equipment, training and readiness, all can in some measure be traced to his efforts.

Again, may we congratulate both the giver and the recipient of the honors. Both well merit them.

FICKLE PUBLIC OPINION

Long have we contended that the most powerful weapon wielded against habitually reckless and dangerous drivers is license suspension. We all know that this gives the offender a chance to realize just how much his license means to him, shows him a license is not a demandable right but a revocable privilege and removes a threat from the highway. In addition, it is an excellent deterrent for not only his friends and acquaintances, but anyone who is aware, through any medium, that licenses are being lifted for heinous driving offenses.

Strangely enough, while the general public decries reckless driving, it undergoes a complete about face of opinion when the just desserts of such action strike even reasonably close to home.

In the western part of Virginia last summer, a State Police sergeant and trooper came upon a youth-fu speeder who refused to stop for the officers. For ten miles they literally took their lives in their hands pursuing him at speeds up to 100 miles per hour, often losing him in the swirling dust of the secondary roads into which he constantly darted. Indeed, it was only by the harsh black skidmarks he placed on paved highways as he left or returned to them that touch was kept with him. "This was the worst case of reckless driving that I ever saw," said the sergeant, who is a veteran of 13 years with the State Police.

All the youth had to say was that he didn't drive at 100 but only at 85, and that when he finally stopped and slid over in the seat, thinking one of the officers would climb in for a "chat," he was grabbed and had his arm held behind his back. When gasoline-crazed drivers lead police a chase like that and make a movement as if to abandon the car when finally stopped, the officers, it would seem, are quite justified in believing the fugitive could be an escaped convict, run runner, car thief or some other sinister character.

One would think that public opinion would run high against such an act. Not only were the pursuing officers in grave danger, but motor vehicles tearing along at 100 miles per hour can kill anyone and kill quickly. People in the immediate vicinity were in danger.

Instead of irate citizenry demanding immediate removal from the road, a flood of letters and a petition came to the judge and we quote a few excerpts. "It is our careful opinion that careful consideration should be given to his case and leniency shown."

"His excuse was, I think, that his father had cautioned him so severely about going slowly that when he realized he was in danger of being stopped by the law the only thing he could think of was trying to get away. We, of course, realize this was the wrong move and yet can understand the young fellow's feeling."

"We do not believe he realized how fast he was driving. Editor's note: Maintaining speeds up to 100 on a public highway and not realizing it! . . . We are writing to speak a word in his behalf and to ask that you kindly be lenient with him and overlook his indiscretion this time."

I hope very much this boy isn't made an example of. (Emphasis ours) He was speeding I'm quite sure it was due to excitement and aggravation of the police. Please do not make him lose confidence

WASHINGTON . . AS VIEWED BY YOUR SENATOR A. Willis Robertson

INTERNATIONAL ASPECTS OF CONTROLS PROBLEM

This week the Banking and Currency Committee tackled the difficult question of what to do about economic controls. The schedule of our hearings, which probably will continue for several weeks, called for preliminary testimony from government officials on the economic problems facing the nation. Next we will get the opinions of businessmen, labor organizations, trade associations and other private individuals or groups and finally we will hear from federal officials who will present the Administration's official position on the subject.

It is generally agreed that under present conditions there is no need for continuing wage and price controls or even many of the material and production controls due to expire in June. The question is, however, whether or not we should put on the books a new stand-by control law that could be used quickly in an emergency. Before our hearings began we were advised that the President would not ask for stand-by controls but that he would accept such a law if passed by the Congress.

I have always disliked the principle of government interference with private business but I have recognized the necessity for certain artificial restrictions during a war emergency. None of us can afford the runaway inflation which war-time shortages of consumer goods tend to cause or the subsequent deflation which follows efforts to get our economy back to normal levels. Consequently, I favored the prompt application of economic controls after war broke out in Korea and regretted that when the Congress gave authority to President Truman he failed to exercise it until several months later after serious inflation was under way. One reason, the controls then imposed were not more effective was that prices already were so badly out of balance that no equitable wage could be found to adjust them without hurting innocent businessmen along with the comparatively few profiteers who had tried to take selfish advantage of a national emergency.

There are two definite reasons for considering stand-by control legislation now: (1) We do not know to what extent fighting in Korea will be stepped up, requiring increased military supplies which would put a new inflationary strain on our civilian economy. (2) We do not know at this time how far the 11 nations of Europe which joined us in signing the Atlantic Pact, will go in forming a political, economic and military union that is the key to our foreign policy.

Our allies not only have been dragging their feet on the European program but are giving no help in solving the Korean problem. They are unwilling to furnish additional troops for service in Korea themselves and have opposed suggestions to improve the situation of our combat troops who have carried the brunt of the fighting. If we are forced to continue to rely almost entirely on our own efforts, the strain on our economy naturally will be much greater than if we could count on international forces to block communism in Europe and to meet new threats in other quarters.

The future of our economy also will be influenced by our foreign trade policies. We have on the one hand such suggestions as that of

MR. HATCHETT SAYS
HE "WAS THERE"

February 23, 1953

Editor,
Virginia Beach Sun-News,
Virginia Beach, Va.

Dear Sir:

I feel that your editorial of February 19th, concerning the subject of erosion at Virginia Beach, and in which you condemn me, requires an answer.

That every man, woman and child here is proud of our restored beach goes without question.

Let us take a look at the record. In October, 1950, I was appointed Town Manager, at which time, although the U.S. Engineers had studied the erosion problem for some four or five years, their recommendations were still forthcoming. It was during my tenure as Town Manager, and upon my recommendation that the City Council passed the necessary legislation, levying the luxury taxes which have been the major source of revenue for making the beach restoration an actuality.

The records will further disclose that I worked constantly with the U.S. Engineers to the end that they would submit their plan for beach restoration. It is recalled that I headed a study group which visited Atlantic City, and other New Jersey and New York beaches in early 1952, on which occasion valuable data and information was obtained with reference to the luxury taxes and also with reference to the beach restoration by the method of hydraulic pumping sand (the method so highly satisfactory in Atlantic City).

My views on beach restoration and the creation of a marina hardly bear repeating, but in case you have forgotten, it was my plan that the marina should have a municipally owned and operated marina. My view was at that time, and is now, that should this municipality be unable to condemn property outside the limits of our city, annexation proceedings should be brought to annex such property, after which condemnation proceedings could then be instituted. I may remind you that it is still not too late for this to be done. One of the principal reasons for a municipally owned and operated marina was to provide an additional source of revenue, from which the cost of the beach restoration could be paid, without levying additional taxes on real and personal property.

Of course it is true that the members of the Erosion Control Association have devoted considerable time to this problem. However, theirs has only been the execution and carrying out of already conceived and inaugurated plans—plans conceived and inaugurated during my tenure as Town Manager.

Very truly yours,
W. RUSSELL HATCHETT

Scanning the News

The big news story for the next few weeks, now that the insurgents have been defeated, is the battle developing in Congress to cut ex-President Truman's $78,567,000,000 budget.

A cut is a certainty since President Eisenhower is under firm campaign promises to cut taxes and to balance the budget as soon as possible. This brings up the two major problems facing Congress: (1) Where can taxes be cut, and (2) where can the budget be sliced?

As for the first, the new administration is doing everything in its power to keep from giving the taxpayers any hope of a cut this year.

And for the second, there are a number of major problems:

(1) Of the total budget, 73 cents of every dollar would go for national security programs—military services, foreign aid, and foreign relations, atomic energy, promoting defense production and economic stability, civil defense, and the merchant marine. The total amount is $57,300,000,000. The problem is just how much the new administration trim from this without jeopardizing the national security?

Of this total for national security, $7.9 billion is earmarked for foreign programs. This is the item that may get one of the greatest cuts. Last year Congress cut it $1.9 billion.

(2) Another section of the proposed budget calls for the expenditure of $4.6 billion for veterans' benefits. This item is considered untouchable politically. Little, if any, cut is expected here.

(3) One of the big items, other than price supports on farm products, would be $250,000,000 for an agricultural conservation program under which payments are made to farmers for carrying out approved soil conservation practices. Here a cut may be made since some farm groups are reported willing to take less for this activity.

Since the federal government's income for the next fiscal year is estimated at approximately $69 billion, then to balance the budget about $10 billion must be cut. It becomes obvious, then, that any adjustment cuts must come from the $57 billion marked for national security, a little can be saved from the $10 billion earmarked for other government activities.

Besides cutting foreign aid, eliminating waste and duplication in the Defense Department is one of the most popular solutions proposed. Many believe that the new President, with his military background, will find a way of trimming the fat from the military budget.

Here are a few facts concerning taxation:

(1) Federal taxes rose to an all-time high after the defense program was stepped up. Since 1950 taxes have practically doubled on individuals and corporations.

(2) Under the present system, individuals contribute 41 cents of the government's budget dollar and corporations pay 29 cents. Customs, etc., contribute 5 cents, excise taxes 12 cents and 13 cents is borrowed.

● If there were ever any doubt that President Eisenhower would carry out his promise of economy and efficiency in government, they have now been dispelled. Washington is being shaken to the very foundations these days—like it hasn't been shaken for 20 years.

Beginning with his first State of the Union message to Congress and a series of executive orders immediately afterwards, the President has shown he means business. A number of the points touched upon in his address to Congress have seen fast action.

As an example:

1. He said there no longer was any "sense or logic" in the use of the Seventh Fleet to shield Red China. He immediately ordered the fleet to stop its screening. This opens the way for Nationalist forces to attack the Communist-held mainland if they so desire. That China doesn't like the idea was apparent the follow ing day when Red leaders began asking for removal of the hopelessly peace talks in Korea.

2. The first order of domestic business should be to balance the budget, after which a reduction in taxation would be in order. This statement was followed by orders freezing hiring and strict economy in government expenditures.

3. Aid to Europe would be continued with the Allies required to be full partners matching United States contributions according to their capabilities. Immediately afterwards Secretary of State John Foster Dulles—on his visit to Europe—told big Western European powers they have 75 days to show real progress in setting up a unified defense or they faced cuts in American military and economic aid.

● One of the most talked about moves of the administration is the killing of the Defense Mobilization Act. Its functions have been taken over by the Office of Defense Mobilization. The move is the first step to end controls on materials and products except for highly essential defense items.

This swing to free economy, which the Republican party has long advocated, was the forerunner of decontrol of prices and wages.

● After the first weeks his administration has been in power, there is a general feeling in Washington that any collision between the White House and Congress is yet in the distant future. The reason: The President's prestige is vast and his political power is overwhelming. No one or group, as yet, has had the courage to seriously confront him. The Democrats are actually beginning to believe they can get along with him better than they supposed. And although a number of Republicans are developing signs of congressional independence, none of them, including Senator Taft, are likely to get far out of line in the near future.

outlying areas within 5 mile radius of the city.

The contract, which is retroactive to July 1 of this year, provides for a payment to the city of $50 for each fire call made in the county. If it becomes necessary for the fire fighting equipment to remain longer than one hour, the contract calls for the payment of a $50 per hour fee, or for any fractional part of an hour.

The county also agreed to pay the city $100 yearly rent on 40 fire hydrants which it plans to outlying areas.

An appropriation of $107 from the county's civilian defense fund was approved at the request of Ivan D. Mapp, civilian defense coordinator, for the county's share of the cost of a film library which is now being acquired.

Mapp told the board that the total cost of the project, which will be shared by the federal, state and city governments, will be $857. The films, on atomic attacks and other safety measures, will be available to civic groups for showings.

Virginia Beach Motors, Inc., was named low bidder on a truck chassis for the sanitation department. The local firm entered a bid of $1,800.39.

Kline Chevrolet Corporation of Virginia Beach was the low bidder on an automobile for the superintendent of the department. The company submitted bids of $1,501.80 and $1,578.30 on each of two models.

J. Peter Holland, III, captain of the Virginia Beach-Pine Bluff Fire Department, appeared before the board seeking financial aid on the request pending the acceptance of its annual budget in March.

ers, until 1935, and he had to do it the hard way, beating Craig Wood in a 36-hole playoff after each had finished in a deadlock with a 7-7 tie.

Gene holds another distinction. He's competed in 11 matches than any other American golfer, American or British.

In 1947 at the age of 45 Sarazen was a quarterfinalist in the PGA, defeating both Johnny Revolta and Snead before bowing out. Again the following year Gene proved he still was a tough customer on a golf course. He carried Daniel Ben Hogan, the eventual PGA winner, to the thirty-sixth hole before losing. It was that year, too, that Sarazen's team beat Hogan's Club, 5 and 3, in the Cavalier Specialists at Virginia Beach.

Gene, who had two good rounds in the '30 Open before the grind proved too much for his legs, finished among the first dozen golfers in the Masters that year and also in '31, proving that even at age he concedes little to younger golfers.

So it's a good start for the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce and the Sports Club, working hard to make this tourney, set for April 16-19, a success, with Snead, last year's Master's champion and winner of the 1951 PGA, and Sarazen, all-time golfing great, in the field.

The annual death rate from automobile accidents is three times the casualty toll of one year of the Korean War.

Wrong "Train" of Thought

Most of us knew the streamliner stopped about four miles from town last Thursday—but we didn't know why...

Seems the train was hurrying along, then came the screeching of brakes—some fellow had pulled the Emergency Stop cord.

When the conductor asked him why he did it, he said, "The train was just going too fast—I wanted to get you to slow down."

From where I sit, that streamliner has been going at that speed for the past seven years with a perfect safety record and the passengers have always been pleased. Now—along comes a fellow who wants the train to go at his speed. Some people are like that. Some still would begrudge another person's right to a temperate glass of beer even though that person wouldn't dream of flashing a "Stop" sign on their preference for, say, milk, coffee or tea. Respecting the rights of others is the only way we can keep "on the right track."

TheatreGoRound Plans for Summer

It was with great reluctance that TheatreGoRound discontinued its indoor winter season February 15th, at the half way mark, declared Miss Lesley Savage, producer, this week. Never before, she said, had there been more enthusiastic response from the audiences, the press and the radio. However, the small attendance made the winter venture financially impractical.

Miss Savage was outspoken in her heartfelt thanks to all TheatreGoRound patrons for their attendance during the interrupted season, and announces that the summer season will definitely open in June, in the familiar blue and yellow tent. Productions will, of course, be "in the round." Exact opening date will be announced later.

Plans are being made to place the tent either on the tiled dance pavilion in front of the building housing the TheatreGoRound company, or on a portion of the huge parking area at the front.

A large group of professional Equity members will be on hand and many familiar faces are expected to be seen during the 1953 season. Miss Savage is now in New York interviewing actors and will return to the Beach about the middle of March.

Apprentices, interested in learning about the professional theatre, play an important part in TheatreGoRound operations, and a limited number of applicants will be accepted. For information, call for an appointment, at 2730.

'Off-Season' Chicks Spell Bigger Profits Says VPI Poultry Specialist

"Off-season" chicks, which would come into production during the first half of the year, would mean more profits to poultrymen. Dr. Robert Kreuger, poultry marketing specialist at VPI, says that the production of eggs is still highly seasonal. Considerably more eggs are produced during the first part of the year (January to August), than during the last part of the year (August to January).

The reason for this is that most egg producers still get their chicks during the late spring and summer months, and egg markets become flooded when these pullets mature to production age about six months later. Heavy supplies, of course, are the main factor in lowering egg prices.

Egg prices usually start to drop below the year's average in January and by April are 12 per cent below. In May and June prices are relatively stable at about 10 per cent below average. In July the price begins to rise rapidly and continues to rise until it reaches the season's peak of about 20 per cent above average in November.

Dr. Kreuger says early hatching, artificial lighting during the "short day" months, and better breeding will enable poultrymen to start their chicks during a so-called "off season" so they will come into egg production when supplies are light and prices are high.

He says Dr. C. D. Kears of Cornell University has computed the different values that might occur for a flock's annual output if it were housed and hatched at various seasons. In a simplified illustration, the study has assumed that if a layer were housed in April, her pattern of laying during the first production year would be identical to that of a comparable September-housed bird, except that it would be advanced by six months. The market prices by which the eggs were valued were those which actually prevailed. Under this study, the value of the eggs produced by an April-housed flock was 7 per cent higher than from a September-housed flock. The profit from the off-season flock, after allowing for somewhat higher costs, were 22 per cent greater.

Assuming that the pattern of laying of an out-of-season pullet would be the same as a spring-hatched pullet is to some extent unrealistic, Dr. Kreuger says. Actually, out-of-season pullets are probably likely to moult sooner after they begin laying. And there may be other risks and drawbacks. Nevertheless, the practice of out-of-season hatching has been profitable for many producers.

Seek to Stimulate Farm Interest In Rural Exposition

Representatives of eight farm organizations met with the Livestock and Agricultural committee of the Atlantic Rural Exposition in Richmond recently to suggest ways and means of creating greater interest participation and support of the official State Fair by the farm population of Virginia and adjacent states. Charles Hancock Reed is chairman of the committee.

The state, federal and other farm officials each gave their ideas as to how exhibits and demonstrations could be made more attractive to the farm population. Emphasis was placed on the increasing educational features of the Exposition. Many of the ideas and suggestions will be put into effect immediately so as to bolster attendance from farm families for the 1953 Atlantic Rural Exposition, to be held September 25 thru October 3.

PETTERS LEAVE TOO MUCH TRASH

College Lake Wayside near Lynchburg, known to generations of "petters," has been closed during nights by the highway department. The department didn't object to romance, but to the bottles and other trash scattered from cars.

State Making Study of Highway Speeds Through Small Towns

The State Highway Department reported this week that a study is being made of speed zones on roads over which it has jurisdiction to determine where revisions are necessary.

J. P. Mills, Jr., traffic and planning engineer, said the Highway Department has been concerned for some time about speed limits on primary roads near and thru incorporated towns of less than 3,500 population.

Many of these zones, he explained, were established some years ago and the speed limits in effect sometimes do not conform with realistic speed requirements.

Resident engineers have been requested to furnish district engineers with a list of locations of speed zones they believe should be examined. These lists will be forwarded to the Traffic and Planning Division, which will make the necessary studies.

The studies, Mills stated, will include zones on state highways within incorporated towns of less than 3,500 persons. Where it is found that changes are needed, department engineers will consult with town officials and state police before making any revisions.

"It is not our intention to make any changes in these incorporated towns without first consulting the local officials and explaining why we feel such changes are necessary," Mills said. He estimated the study will require several months to complete.

Section 46-212 of the state's highway laws specifies, in most instances, what the speed limits shall be throughout the state. However, there are instances in which the Highway Commissioner or state engineer may increase or decrease speed limits as prescribed by this section of the law. Such changes, however, must be based on engineering and traffic investigation.

Benson Charges Unfounded Says Head of Bureau

Commenting on recent news developments, H. G. Blacklock, president of the Virginia Farm Bureau Federation, said that he is of the opinion that "most of the charges leveled at Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson are either political in nature or completely unfounded."

"Benson has become the man of the hour in the news for no just reason that I can detect," Blacklock commented. "Some unauthoritative sources have reported Benson will be the 'first to go' because of the low prices farmers are getting for their goods and because of the price support issue," Blacklock said.

"Farm prices have been declining for two years and Benson cannot be blamed for this. We are looking for prices to level out and climb again this year. Until they do level, we farmers must continue to operate in this tight place. Some of us are hurting today, but of the many farmers I have talked to, not one has expressed the desire for government help yet."

Blacklock said that Benson has promised to carry out the present rigid support law until it expires in 1954. "He says at that time he will see what conditions are and what agricultural leaders have to say before recommending any program. This is

Better Game Farm Habitat Program Being Planned.

State game wardens and game technicians are holding a series of meetings during the month of February and early March to plan a better coordinated program for the farm game habitat improvement work of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, I. T. Quinn, executive director, stated this week.

At the meetings held at the Orange County Court House the correlated programs of game wardens and game technicians are being discussed and future cooperative efforts between the two groups being planned.

The commission believes, Quinn said, that with a closer cooperation of programs between the game wardens and the game technicians, a more effective farm habitat improvement program can be built through out the state.

The only intelligent way to look at the situation, I believe, for conditions can change overnight with an aggressive move by Russia," Blacklock declared.

"We should be concerned with keeping the market and ourselves as free as possible so that our efficient, yes will pull us out of this slump. Benson is trying to do this. I think he is to be complimented on the manner in which he is gathering information to use in developing a program and I am sure that if every one will cooperate we will come thru with a sound agricultural program."

Fort Story 'Frogmen' Have Taste Of Realistic Combat Conditions

Future Navy "Frogmen" in the final stages of an intensive training in underwater demolitions, were exposed to the realistic sounds and actual conditions of combat at the Army infiltration course recently.

The Underwater Demolition Team (UDT) replacements—eight officers and 22 enlisted men from Little Creek—crawled the 135-yard simulated battlefield once in the afternoon and again in darkness. They went over barriers and under barbed wire as live machine gun fire whined overhead.

The infiltration course is a required part of a soldier's training in the Army's vast combat readiness program. It is designed to acquaint men with realistic sounds encountered in modern warfare and to help build confidence against them. Such training has proved to help enable combat soldiers to maneuver more freely under overhead fire.

The Navy men also experienced the Army confidence course—the old obstacle course—which is a rugged test of a man's physical fitness.

The "Frogmen," successful survivors of "So Solly Day" and "Hell Week," the most vigorous portions of their training—ran the course in fine spirit with no apparent signs of physical exertion.

The entire group is scheduled to depart shortly for a warmer climate and still more extended training in this vital phase of amphibious operations.

Capt. Robert J. Gilroy, plans and training officer at Fort Story, a veteran of both the second World War and the Korean fighting, conducted the training operation.

STRAIGHT From the SHOULDER .... Fashion, That Is!

By ALICE BREWER WHITE.

Fashion-Women's Editor

("Woman's World," 9:30 a. m., Monday thru Saturday, over WTAR, features Mrs. White's chatter about celebrities, homemaking, garden and civic events. Watch for "A.B.W.'s Green Thumb Show," 10 a. m., WTAR-TV.)

IT'S DEFINITELY NEW—The matching up of things, like pretty Spring linings in the new unit matching the blouse with it, or matching lining of the casual coat with the silk print dress. The new bateau neckline in dresses with very short and tight sleeves balancing the neckline effect. The thick gravelly tweeds in suits and coats. Artillery twill dresses with lots of white linen trims. Stunning black and white cotton pique prints from France. Interesting striped dickie waistcoats with linings to coats to match. More pointed shoes to accent the smooth slim lines of coats, suits and dresses. And the charming little shiny white kid gloves, just barely big enough to cover your hands!

SILLY FOIBLES—New sheer hose with pale pink and blue tops to match your lingerie. Ruffles on the top of hose to match the panty ruffle. And those tagged "the bride's special," with gay blue garters attached to the top!

NEW INTRODUCTIONS—Hattie Carnegie's new lace tweed, straight from England, is made up into a stunning strawberries-and-cream-colored, straight-lined suit. Many shades of pink in coats this new season. Straight in front and slightly flaring in the back is an interesting new coat trend. Tubular sheaths in light-weight worsteds that pull in shape with a black elastic ribbon at the waist which ties at the back. Fresh little linen stand-away collars on light weight dresses. Suits from California designers have the rippled out in the back.

People, Places, Stuff .... and Things

Speaking of the Revue ...

Jean Kersey and Angie Alexander, 4-star performers in the recent edition of "Beach Scandals," will repeat their amusing travesty, "Liars," in the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County's "Spring Fashion Budgeters Revue," tomorrow evening, Friday, February 27th, at 8:15 in the Virginia Beach High School auditorium. Bill Miller, music director of the High School, will be accompanist for the show and will present the 12 "Teen Tunes"—pretty young High School girls—in a musical skit about shopping in Grandpa's day at L. Snyder's. There will be 58 children, teens, women and men modeling fashions in a specially designed setting. The proceeds of the evening will go to the Netherlands Relief Fund.

Down to the Sea ...

Mrs. Rosalie Persons, charming wife of the Commander of the Transport Control Squadron, and several other Navy wives, stood on top of the hill at 61st Street last Thursday to watch the U.S.S. Laning (APD-55) and the U.S.S. Floyd sail off for the Caribbean. Mrs. Persons was sure they didn't want to see the ship as the three ships were opposite 61st Street where the wives-left-behind switched on lights and waved scarves and hankies. On the same day the wife of Lt. Comdr. W. L. Wild, as co-chairman with Mrs. E. J. Bradley, carried out a beautiful luncheon for the wives at the Officers' Club at Little Creek. It's wonderful the spirit and understanding these young Navy wives in our community show.

TUNA

The tuna industry in the United States had its beginnings as recently as the first World War. The food shortage and economic stress of that period of history created a demand for a protein-rich food—and tuna was the answer.

The new product, canned tuna, soon achieved popularity and by 1921 the cannery located in San Diego and San Pedro, California, were packing substantial quantities of tuna.

Today the primary types of tuna are the yellowfin, the skipjack and the albacore. However, until 1926 the fishing was based almost entirely upon albacore, a bullet-shaped tuna of snow-white flesh and bland flavor that grows to the size of 55 to 60 pounds. In that year, there began one of those long-term cycle changes in oceanographic conditions which occur off Southern California—the warmer currents from the south invaded the in-shore area—and suddenly the albacore disappeared completely from the coastal waters.

However, with the warm water came new types of tuna, the yellowfin and the skipjack, both tuna with light flesh, rosy pink in color and with a richer, fuller taste than albacore. The skipjack tuna averages between 12 and 15 pounds, while yellowfin range up to 250 pounds. These two types of tuna are found in a 3,500-mile area stretching from Southern California to Northern Peru.

So a tuna-clipper was born, a ship that can travel ten thousand miles if necessary before going back to port. It is equipped with refrigeration sufficient to take care of 50 to 500 tons of tuna, and can remain away from home port for 120 days or more.

Today there are more than 200 of these tuna clippers in operation. Together they account for more than 70 per cent of yellowfin and skipjack. On the tuna clipper—fly-fishing is done with hooks and lines and live bait. The bait is primarily a sardine-like fish called anchovy and is caught in seines and stored in wells on the clipper until ready for use. Two hundred pounds of bait comprise the average requirement for each ton of tuna caught.

Once a school of tuna is sighted, a fisherman called a "chummer" dips out the live bait and throws it overboard to attract the fish. The tuna strike, and the fishing begins. The fishermen are a very religious, God-fearing group of people. An important feature of every tuna clipper is the little chapel for religious worship. At the home ports of San Diego and San Pedro, the fishermen have their own settlements and each year religious fetes are held—usually celebrated with the timeless ceremony of the blessing of the fleet.

A tuna clipper returning from a fishing expedition heads straight for the docks behind the cannery for unloading. The unloading operation begins immediately and is accomplished by means of huge buckets which are lowered into the holds of the vessels by derricks, filled with the tuna and dumped into carts for transportation within the cannery proper.

The fish, after thawing and cleaning, are pre-cooked in steam ovens at a temperature of 218 degrees for three to four hours, depending on the size of the fish. Once cooked, the fish are cooled for 10 to 12 hours and then moved to cleaning tables where the bones and skin and dark meat are removed. Only the big lateral muscles of the tuna, called "loins," are processed, so the can of tuna that results consists of the most edible meat. The meat is then chopped to size and packed in cans. Before the cans are sealed, salt and soybean oil are added. The sealed cans are then taken to a retort and cooked for 90 minutes in a pasteurization process.

The white meat tuna is canned only from albacore. The other types of tuna, such as yellowfin and skipjack, are classified as light meat tuna.

Nutrition-wise, tuna is one of the greatest of all protein foods. Actually, it wasn't until the drastic meat shortage during the first World War that the attention of nutritionists and dietitians was directed to fish as an important protein source. Fish protein supplies the body with a rich source of amino acids, the essential building blocks of body protein. It has been proved that the daily requirements of essential amino acids are amply supplied by an average serving of canned tuna. Noteworthy is the high content in canned tuna of B-12 and animal protein factor, a growth factor which builds body protein and develops vital red blood cells. Tuna provides a considerable portion of daily minimum requirements of iodine, the element which prevents the development of goiter. Tuna ranks high in phosphorus, which builds strong bones.

The value of tuna extends far beyond its nutritional qualities. One of its great advantages is its versatility. The economy value of tuna is an other advantage.

To be sure of the best canned tuna, buy tuna from California. Tuna from there is packed at its flavorful best. During Lent you will find tuna will appeal to the small fry as well as the grown-ups, and help you plan many a good, nutritious meal. Use it often.

Bye, now. See you next week!

KEMPSVILLE HIGH NEWS

BOYS INITIATE NEW 4-H CLUB PROJECT

For the first time, Kempsville Senior 4-H Club boys are carrying cooking as a project. Woody Jones is the junior leader for the group and he has recruited 28 boys for the course. Since the group was organized in November, the "former" football boys have been active with their project work. In December cookies were made for the patients in the hospital and last week a covered dish supper was held in the Home Demonstration kitchen in the new Agricultural Building at Princess Anne Courthouse.

Each boy had to prepare some part of the meal and committees were set up for setting tables and cleaning up. The menu consisted of fried chicken, potato salad, baked beans, tossed salad, pickles, hot rolls, coffee and milk, cake and pie, with a choice of coconut, chocolate, cream, cherry, pumpkin and apple. The 25 boys finished off their meal with the four cakes and fifteen pies! Special guests for the feast were Mrs. Louise Lee, club sponsor; Miss Jane Craig, Home Demonstration agent, and Mrs. B. H. Copeland. Valentine decorations were used and the tables were lighted with red candles.

After the meal Miss Craig showed the boys the large deep freeze in the kitchen and explained to them how the foods are prepared for freezing. Slides, taken at the county 4-H Club Achievement Program, were shown. This project was the boys' own idea and now that they have proven that they are excellent cooks, they are planning another dinner for the near future. This time their girlfriends will be invited so they can demonstrate what wonderful husbands they would make.

Students to be eligible for the dean's list must obtain a "B" average with no grades below a "C." Among those so honored were: Miss Ann Leighton Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Macie Simmons of 207 22nd St., and Miss Agnes Jannina Aldridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Aldridge of 415 22nd Street, Virginia Beach; Miss Betty Engley of Sewell Point Road, Norfolk; Miss Martha Bass of Munder; Miss Ruth Frances Williams and Miss Jacquelyn Whitehurst of Back Bay.

Ena. Leo Milley, Jr., On Rescue Gunboat

Coast Guard Ensign Leo E. Milley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo E. Milley of 102 Laurel Lane, Virginia Beach, is serving aboard the U. S. Coast Guard gunboat Itasca, recently in the news as participating in a joint air-sea rescue of 12 civilian seamen. The rescued men were from the converted landing craft tank Marianas, which sank in heavy seas 100 miles west of Guam.

The Itasca was dispatched to the disaster scene almost immediately and picked up all of the ship's company.

Recently graduated from a course of instruction at the Navy Supply Corps School at Bayonne, N. J., were two Virginia Beach brothers, both Navy Ensigns, Clark R. Green and Richard D. Green, sons of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Clark L. Green of Birdock Point.

Before entering the Navy, they were graduates of the University of Pennsylvania.

Grass-Clover Mix Best For Beef

From the standpoint of quality of herbage, grass-clover mixtures have apparently been somewhat better for beef cattle in a test which has been underway at VPI Agricultural Experiment Station for three years. However, Dr. Roy Blaser, agronomist at the station, says all of the mixtures were "satisfactory" from a standpoint of quality. Six species and mixtures—Kentucky 31 fescue-ladino clover, orchard grass-ladino clover, orchard grass alone, and Kentucky 31 fescue alone—are being tested with steers. Aim of the study is to determine the quality of pastures as shown by the daily liveweight gain, and on carrying capacity as shown by the number of animals carried per acre. Seasonal distribution of herbage is also being studied.

Wild Turkey Kill Below Last Year

The 1600 wild turkeys reported killed in Virginia for the season just closed is a 26 per cent drop below the 2148 reported during the 1951-52 season, I. T. Quinn, executive director of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, disclosed.

With reports in from practically all Virginia counties, it is evident, said Quinn, that the total turkey kill for the 1952-53 season will be considerably below last year's record.

The commission is greatly concerned about the wild turkey population in the state. Despite the success which the commission has been having in the production of wild turkeys at its 17,000 acre game farm in the state forest in Cumberland County, there were apparently fewer of these game birds in Virginia during the past season than in previous years.

In an effort to combat this decrease in the wild turkey population state forest officials and Game Commission representatives met February 10 to discuss the situation. Game biologists, headed by C. F. Phelps, chief, game division, C. H. Shaffer, game biologist with headquarters in Lynchburg, both representing the commission, and S. G. Hobart, representing the State Forest Service, made plans to use the state forest in Cumberland County as a home-base laboratory for studying the turkey management program of the commission.

With this area in Cumberland as a base, Robert McDowell, a specialist in wild turkey management, will conduct studies throughout the entire state.

Gen. Bruce Talks At DAR Meeting

Taking as his topic, "The Home and National Defense," Lt. Gen. Andrew D. Bruce, USA, Commandant of the Armed Forces Staff College, addressed five chapters of the DAR, including the Princess Anne Chapter, at the Norfolk Yacht and Country Club last Saturday.

The speaker declared "the home plays a part in every factor of defense and is the most important center of the youth of the country." Again, quoting George Washington, he said, "A free people ought not only be armed, but disciplined, and of course discipline begins at home."

Comparing the lack of training and hardships of the Revolutionary days with the soldiers of today, the speaker described the orientation and training of today's army.

General Bruce was introduced by Mrs. Guy H. Kerr, director of the Tidewater DAR. Mrs. Benjamin A. Doggett, regent of the Great Bridge Chapter, presided.

A full representative group from the Princess Anne Chapter attended, including the regent, Mrs. R. C. Herbert. Approximately 200 members and guests attended the luncheon and heard General Bruce.

MORE COFFEE THAN WATER
Travelers by plane are as insistent about having their coffee in the air as at home or the office. One airline hostess estimates 1,500,000 cups of coffee are consumed annually on its planes. This is more than 15 times the amount of water passengers drink.

A larger airline estimates 3 million cups of coffee will be served aboard its planes this year—enough to fill three average-sized swimming pools.
